HUMORAMA
MAGAZINE

"Very nice, but we advertised for a stripper to strip tinfoil from cigarette packs!"

"I'll be delighted to join you on your hunting trip, but I must warn you that I'm trigger happy!"

"I wouldn't worry if she doesn't seem to respond to your, sir—That's my foot you're stepping on!"

BREEZY . . . A Cartoon Jamboree of Honest-2-Goodness Entertainment! is published every other month by Humorama, Inc. 655 MADison Avenue, New York 21, N.Y. Many a kid's hide is saved by a good tannin'! Any familiarity between the character in this magazine just proves that some people don't know the meaning of the word 'stop'. Contents copyright 1955 by Humorama, Inc. Printed in the U.S.A.

"She's tired of being on her feet all day!"

BREEZY

"Too bad — such a nice breeze and no young man around!"

"Naturally you heard strange noises, Daddy. Ned is my new boyfriend!"

WHEWS! & VIEWS! JOANNE ARNOLD

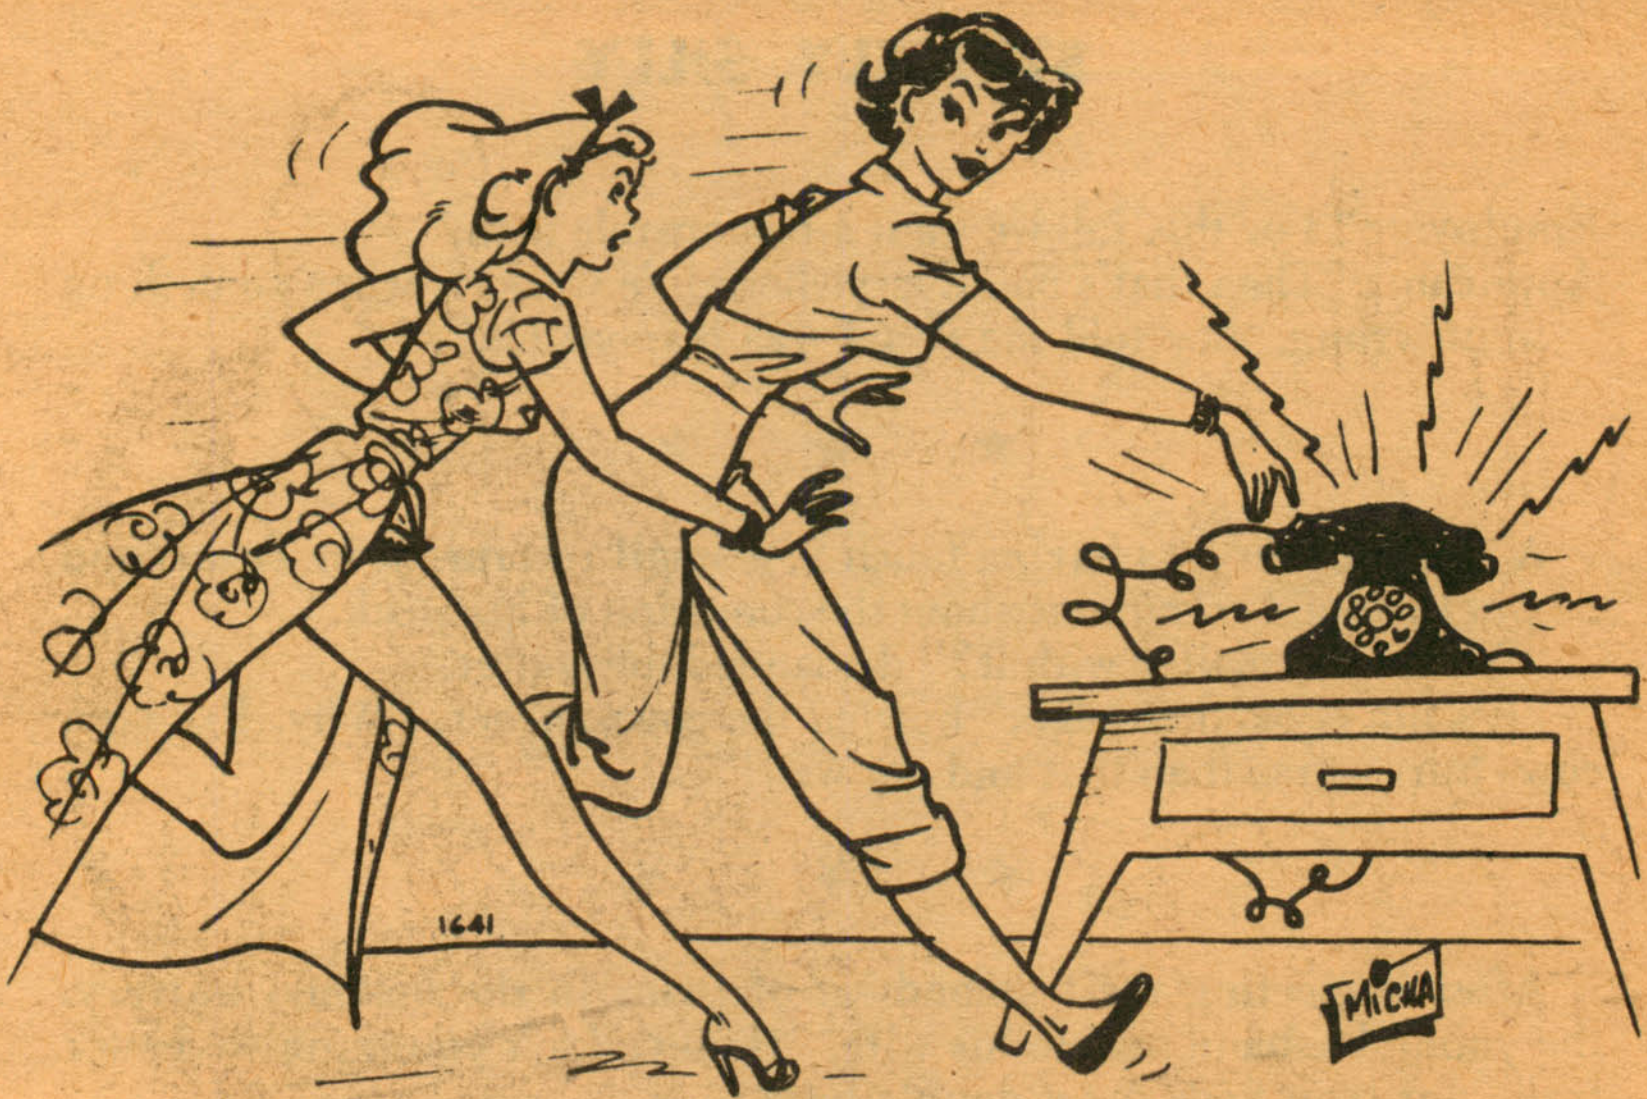

"When a man finally thinks of asking a woman to have a heart, she already has taken it!"

BREEZY

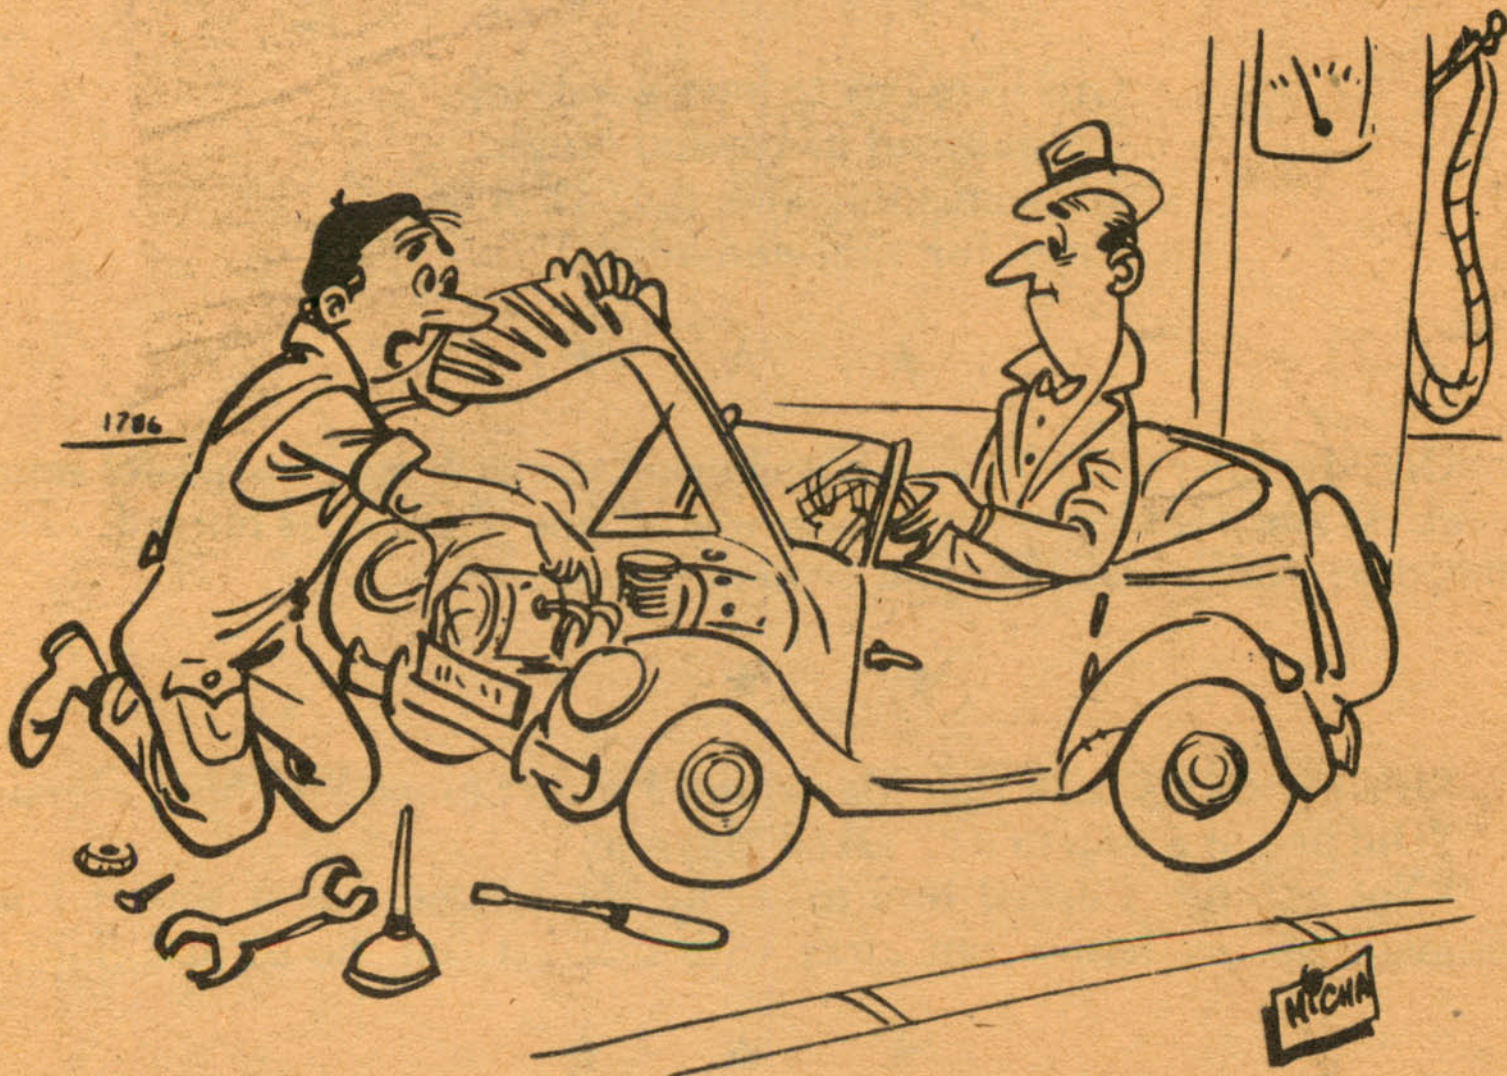

"You really shouldn't spend so much money on me, Mr. Carruthers. I ought to make you return the candy!"

THAT FRENCH HUMOR!

"That ring sounds like it's for me!"

"I found what's wrong, sir . . . your shoelaces are caught in the spark-plug!"

STRICTLY SILLY

Employer: "For this job we want a responsible man."

Applicant: "Then that's me. Everywhere I've worked, when something went wrong, they told me that I was responsible!"

A cowpuncher was having lunch in a small restaurant in Texas, and he put in a loud complaint about the condition of his steak.

"What's the matter with it?" demanded the waiter.

"It's not cooked enough," howled the cowpuncher. "Why, I've seen cows hurt worse than that and got well!"

After inspecting their second set of twins in the hospital nursery, the young husband said to his wife, "Honey, don't you think we better trade our twin beds for a double bed?"

"Heavens no!" She shook her head. "If we had a double bed we would end up with quadruplets!"

Girl likes boy to have good time,
To sing and dance and laugh;
It's something else, tho, when he Tries for time-and-a-half!

One day at rehearsal a curvy chorine showed up in a pastel mink coat. As she paraded around to show it off one of the stars purred, "Tell me, dear, was it made for you or were you made for it?"

"It's my Dad's fault that Maxie and I didn't elope," alibied Flossie.

"Did he put a stop to it?" asked Maymie.

"Not exactly. I asked him to set up the ladder, but it wasn't long enough, so my fellow ran away with that girl on the second floor!"

A man will soon be able to get clear around the world in two hours: one hour for flying, and the other to get out to the airport.

IT'S GOOD TO HAVE A NEIGHBOR WITH IDEAS!

"And that's what he spends on a date, too!"

BREEZY

"I picked a bad night to get married, Mother—there's a terrific double header on T.V.!"

The big, burly man was struggling with the questions on the application blank for employment as laborer in a mid-western industrial plant.

Finally after much squirming and mental labor, he handed the form, with a great sigh of relief, to the Personnel Director, who read:

NAME.....JOHN SMITH

AGE.....27

SEX.....ONCE IN A WHILE

"And who would you like for a chaser?"

"Wait 'til the union hears about the coffee-break speed-up!"

BREEZY

"Whoever told you that three aces beats a pair of tens, doesn't know how to play poker!"

WHEWS! & VIEWS! PAT MURPHY

"When a man treats a girl with consideration, she knows he's priceless!"

"We're so happy to see you out again!"

BREEZY

"Somehow you always manage to get more speed going down than going up!"

"Jason, what's the meaning of this?"

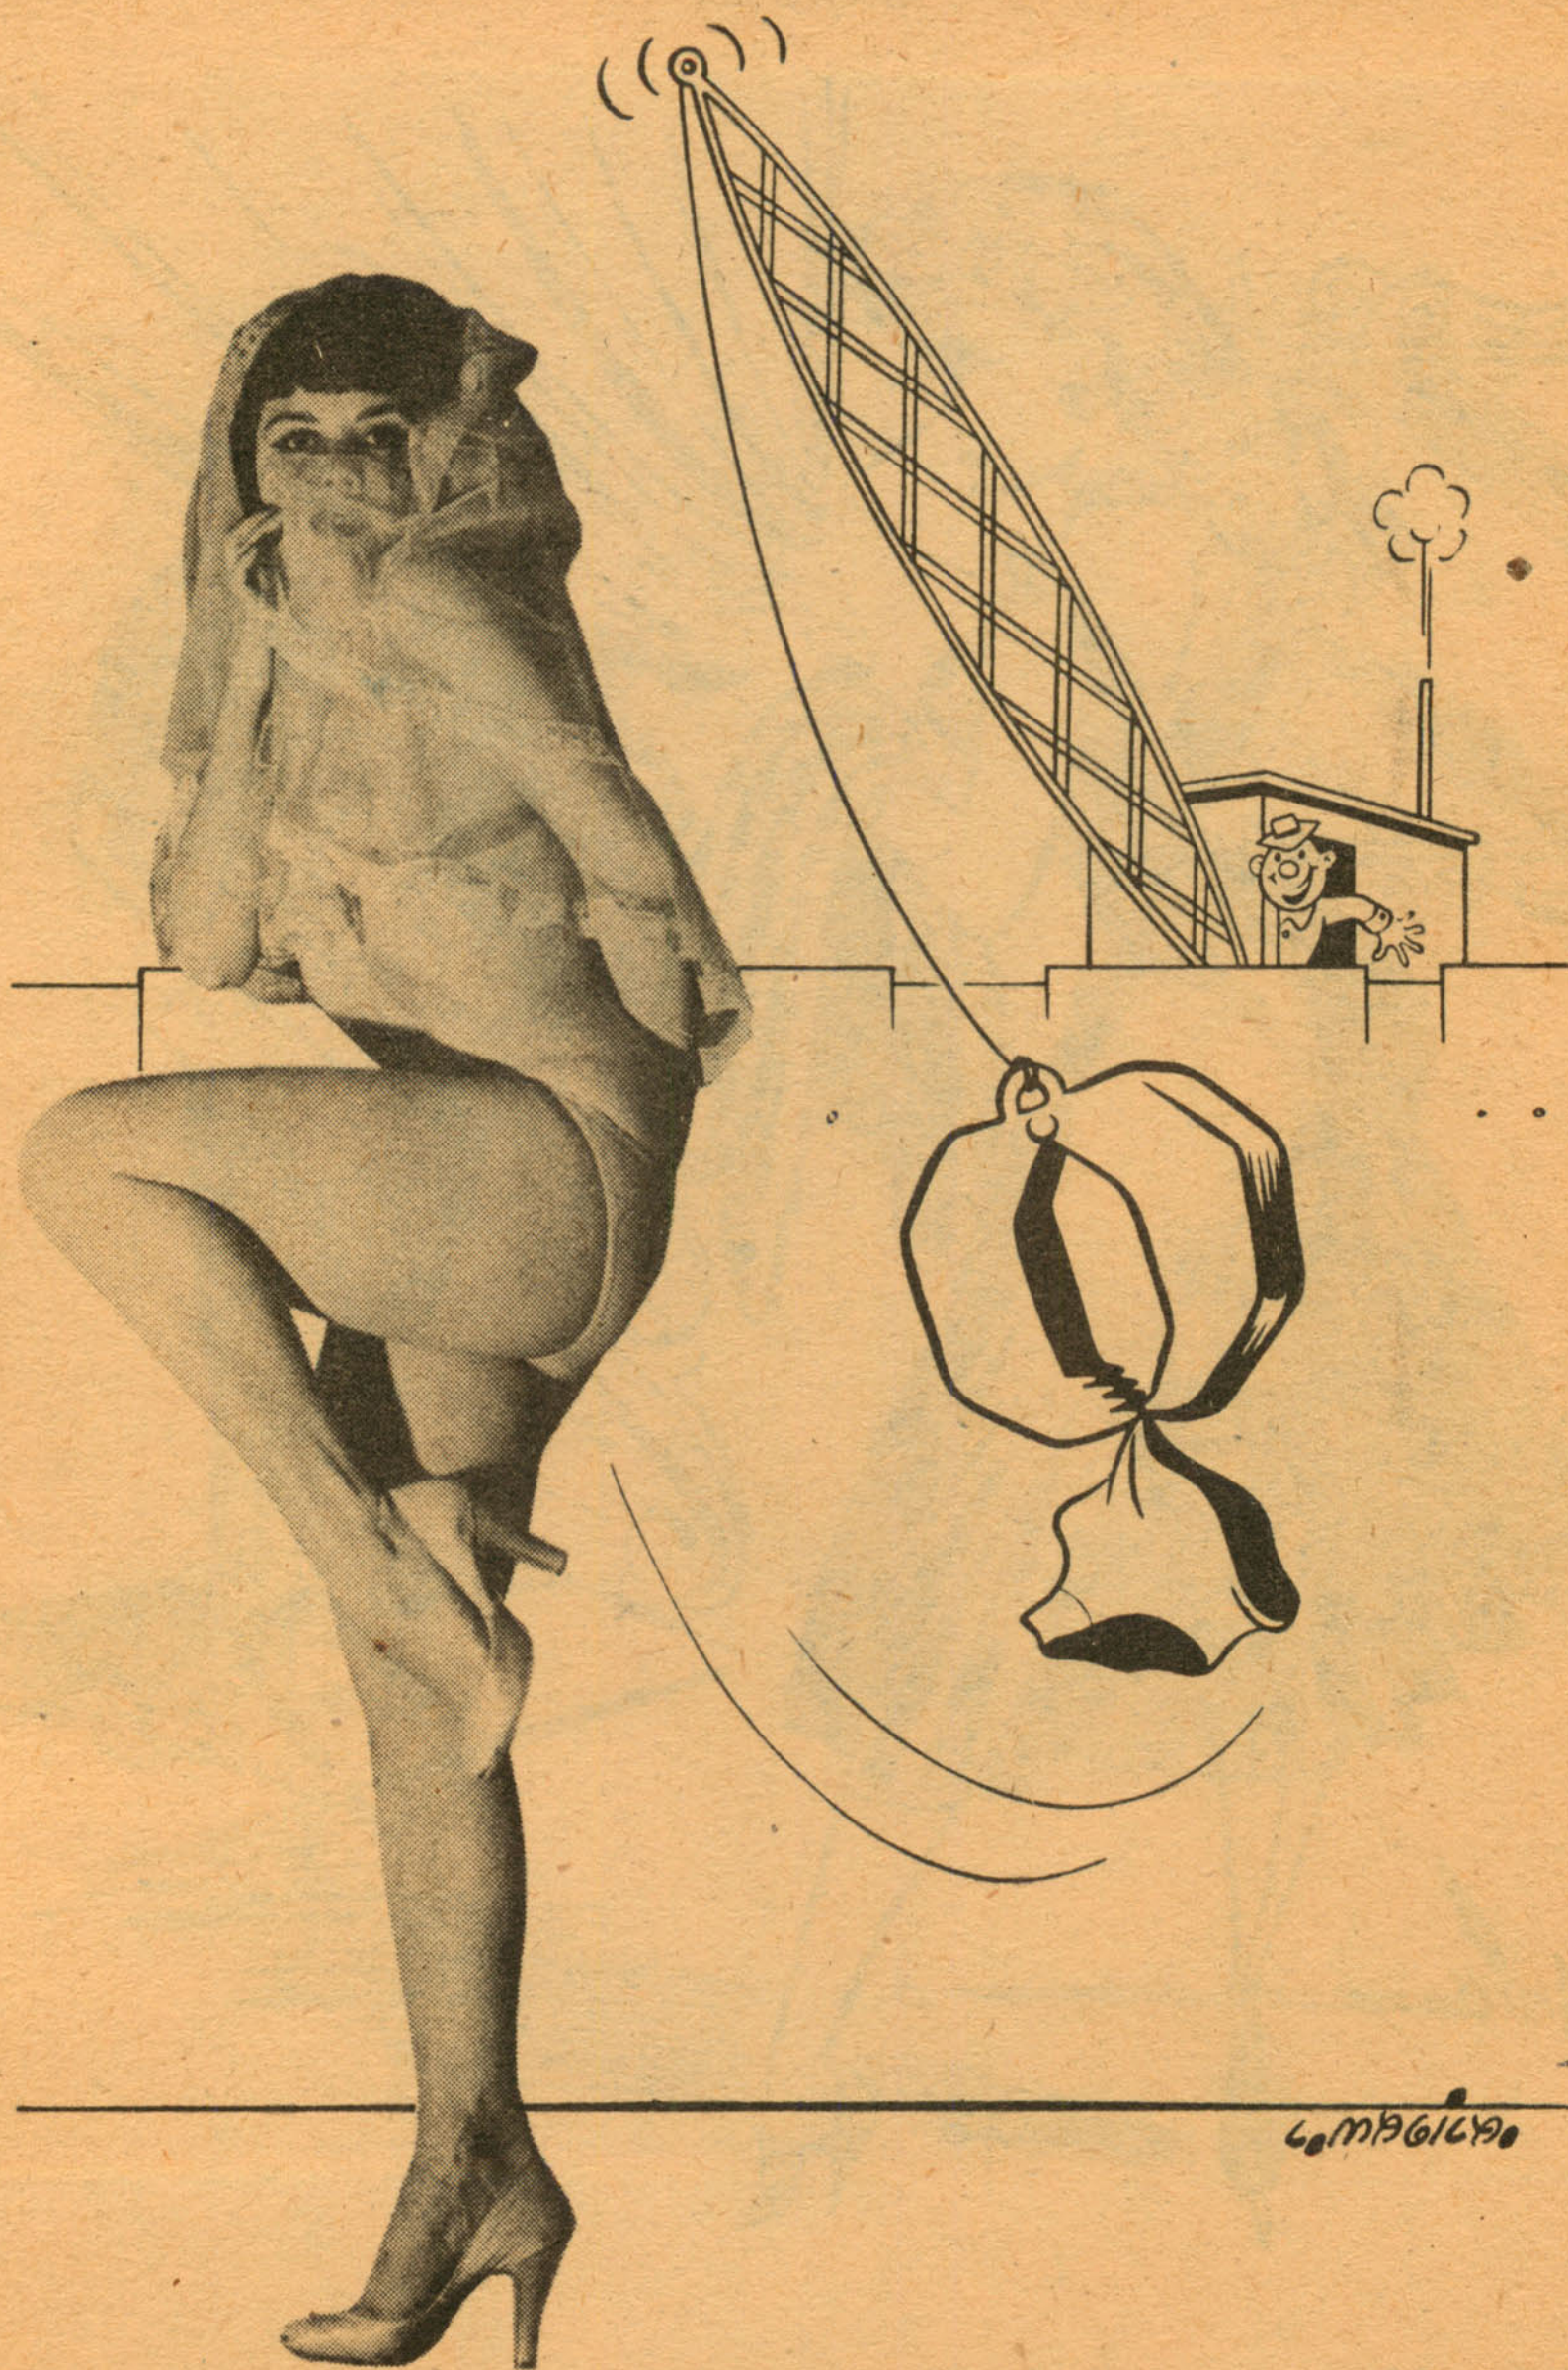

"Howdy! My name's Daisy. Have you found any yet?"

BREEZY

"He's old enough to retire, but he's not decided on his social security!"

A-BUILDIN' ON THE WRONG FOUNDATION!

"A table next to the handsomest diner nearest the orchestra, please!"

BREEZY

"When you introduced her to me as the amazing Miss Gluk, why didn't you tell me what you meant?"

TOUCH AND RUN!

Since time began the one word that leads to another is Sex.

Pajama: Something newly-weds place at the foot of their bed in case of fire.

WHAT is it a woman does sitting down, a man does standing up and a dog does on one leg? SHAKE HANDS.

A man started a livery stable business in the old days. The first thing he did was to have a big sign painted representing himself holding a mule by the head.

"Is that a good likeness of me?" he asked an admiring friend.

"Yes, it is a perfect picture of you, but who is the fellow holding your head?"

Wife reading to her husband: "Mother writes to say she is feeling very seedy."

Husband (dryly): "That means she's going to plant herself here."

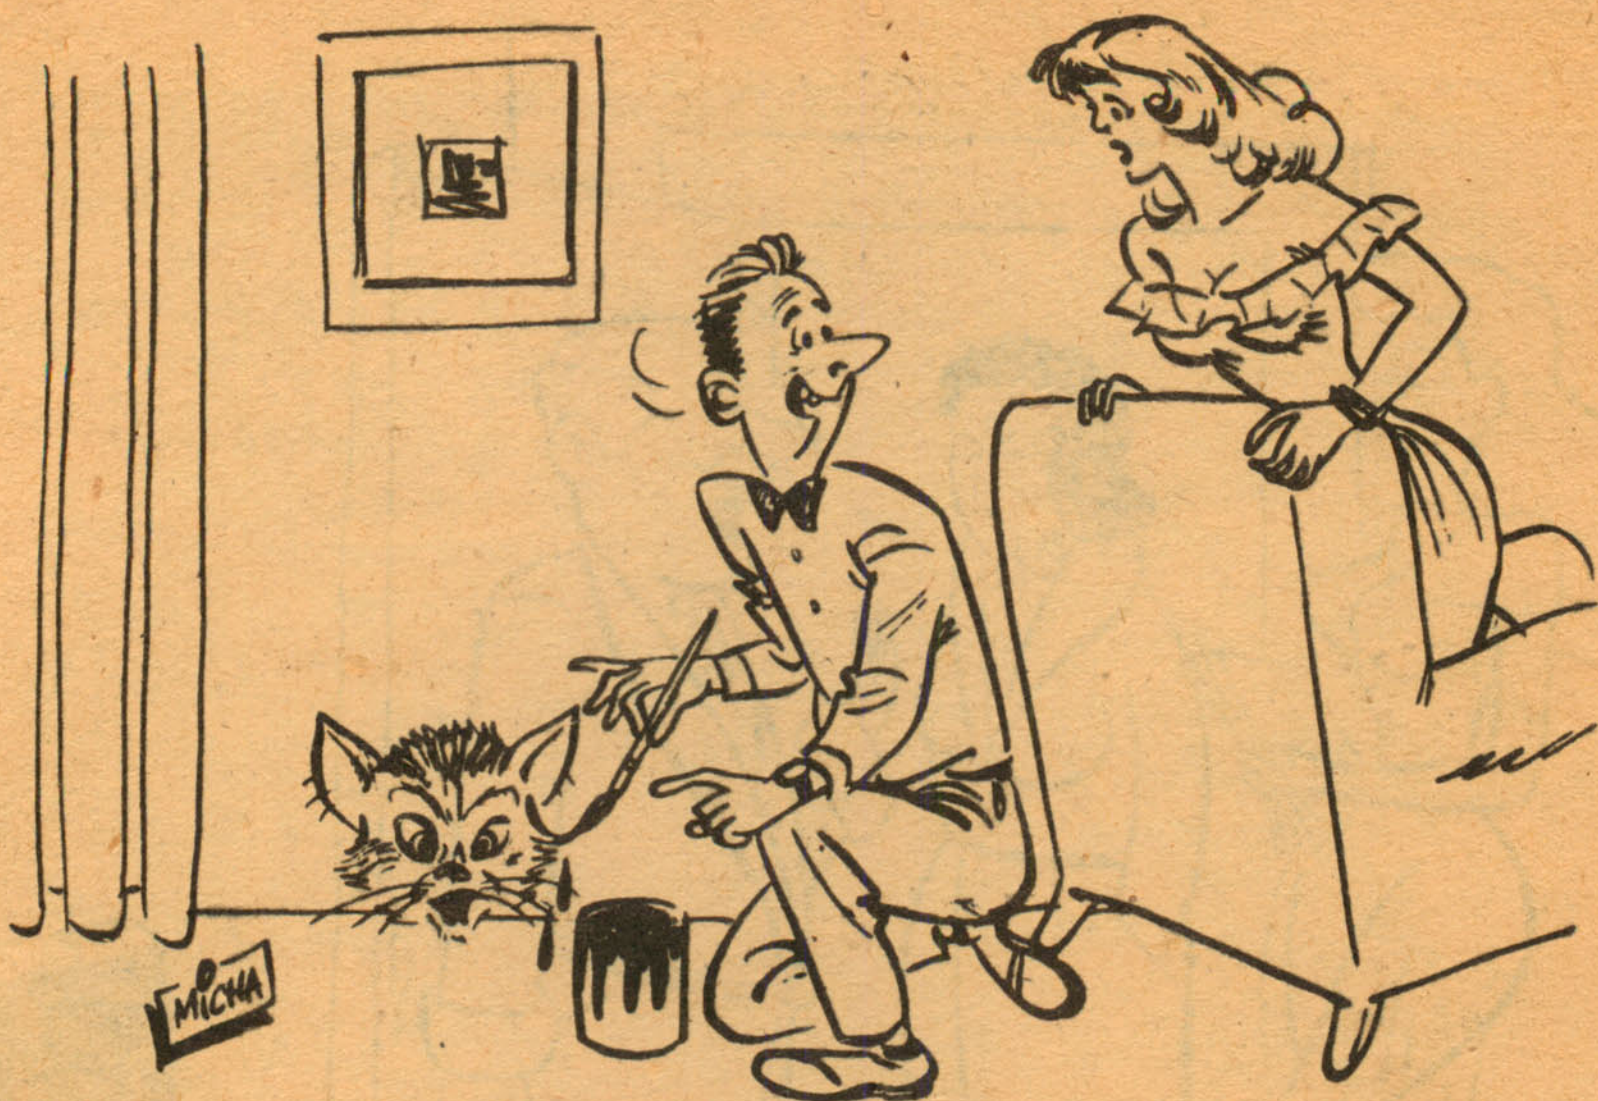

The beach is certainly the best place to enjoy an outing—as well as see one.

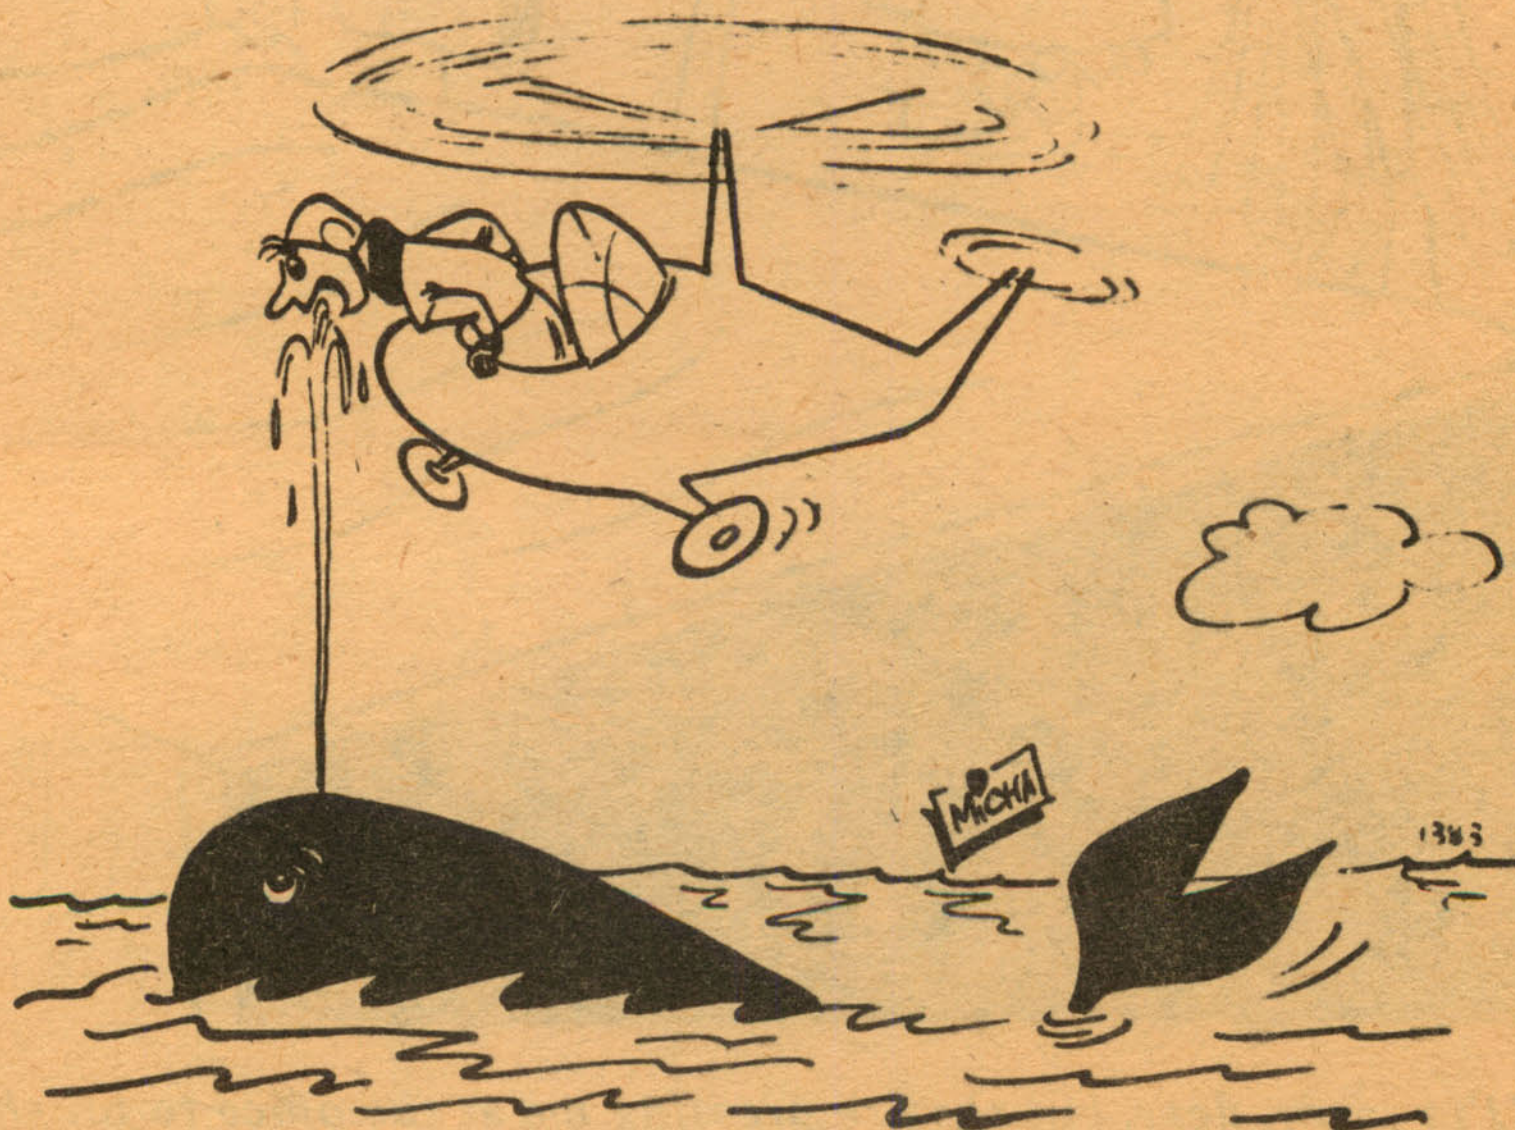

SHAKE WELL BEFORE DELUGIN'!

Why is the sky so blue today?
Why are the lawns so green?
Why do I smell the new-mown hay?
Why is the world so clean?

Oh, it isn't because I'm in love
or tight,
Or anything else you would mention:
It's because it rained like hell
last night!—
And I got a hell of a drenchin'!

THAT FRENCH HUMOR!

"I'm sorry, dear, but they're pressing me at the office to finish these reports by tomorrow!"

NIGHTMARE SALLY

I dreamed a dream.

And all my dream was you,

Who came to me

And thrilled my being through!

I held you in my arms,

Then all your hair

Fell like the night

And hid me there!

Why don't you use glue on your toupe?

You clung to me,

And, oh! your breath, #$(@+ "!

And in your breastpocket

I felt your wallet.

Like wind upon the rose

You breathed my name

But you guessed it wrong

It wasn't Jane!

I dreamed a dream . . .

How soon a dream is gone;

A nothingness

Across the dancing dawn;

You came to me and wrought

Your witching spell,

And now I know that heaven ends

With the alarm clock bell!

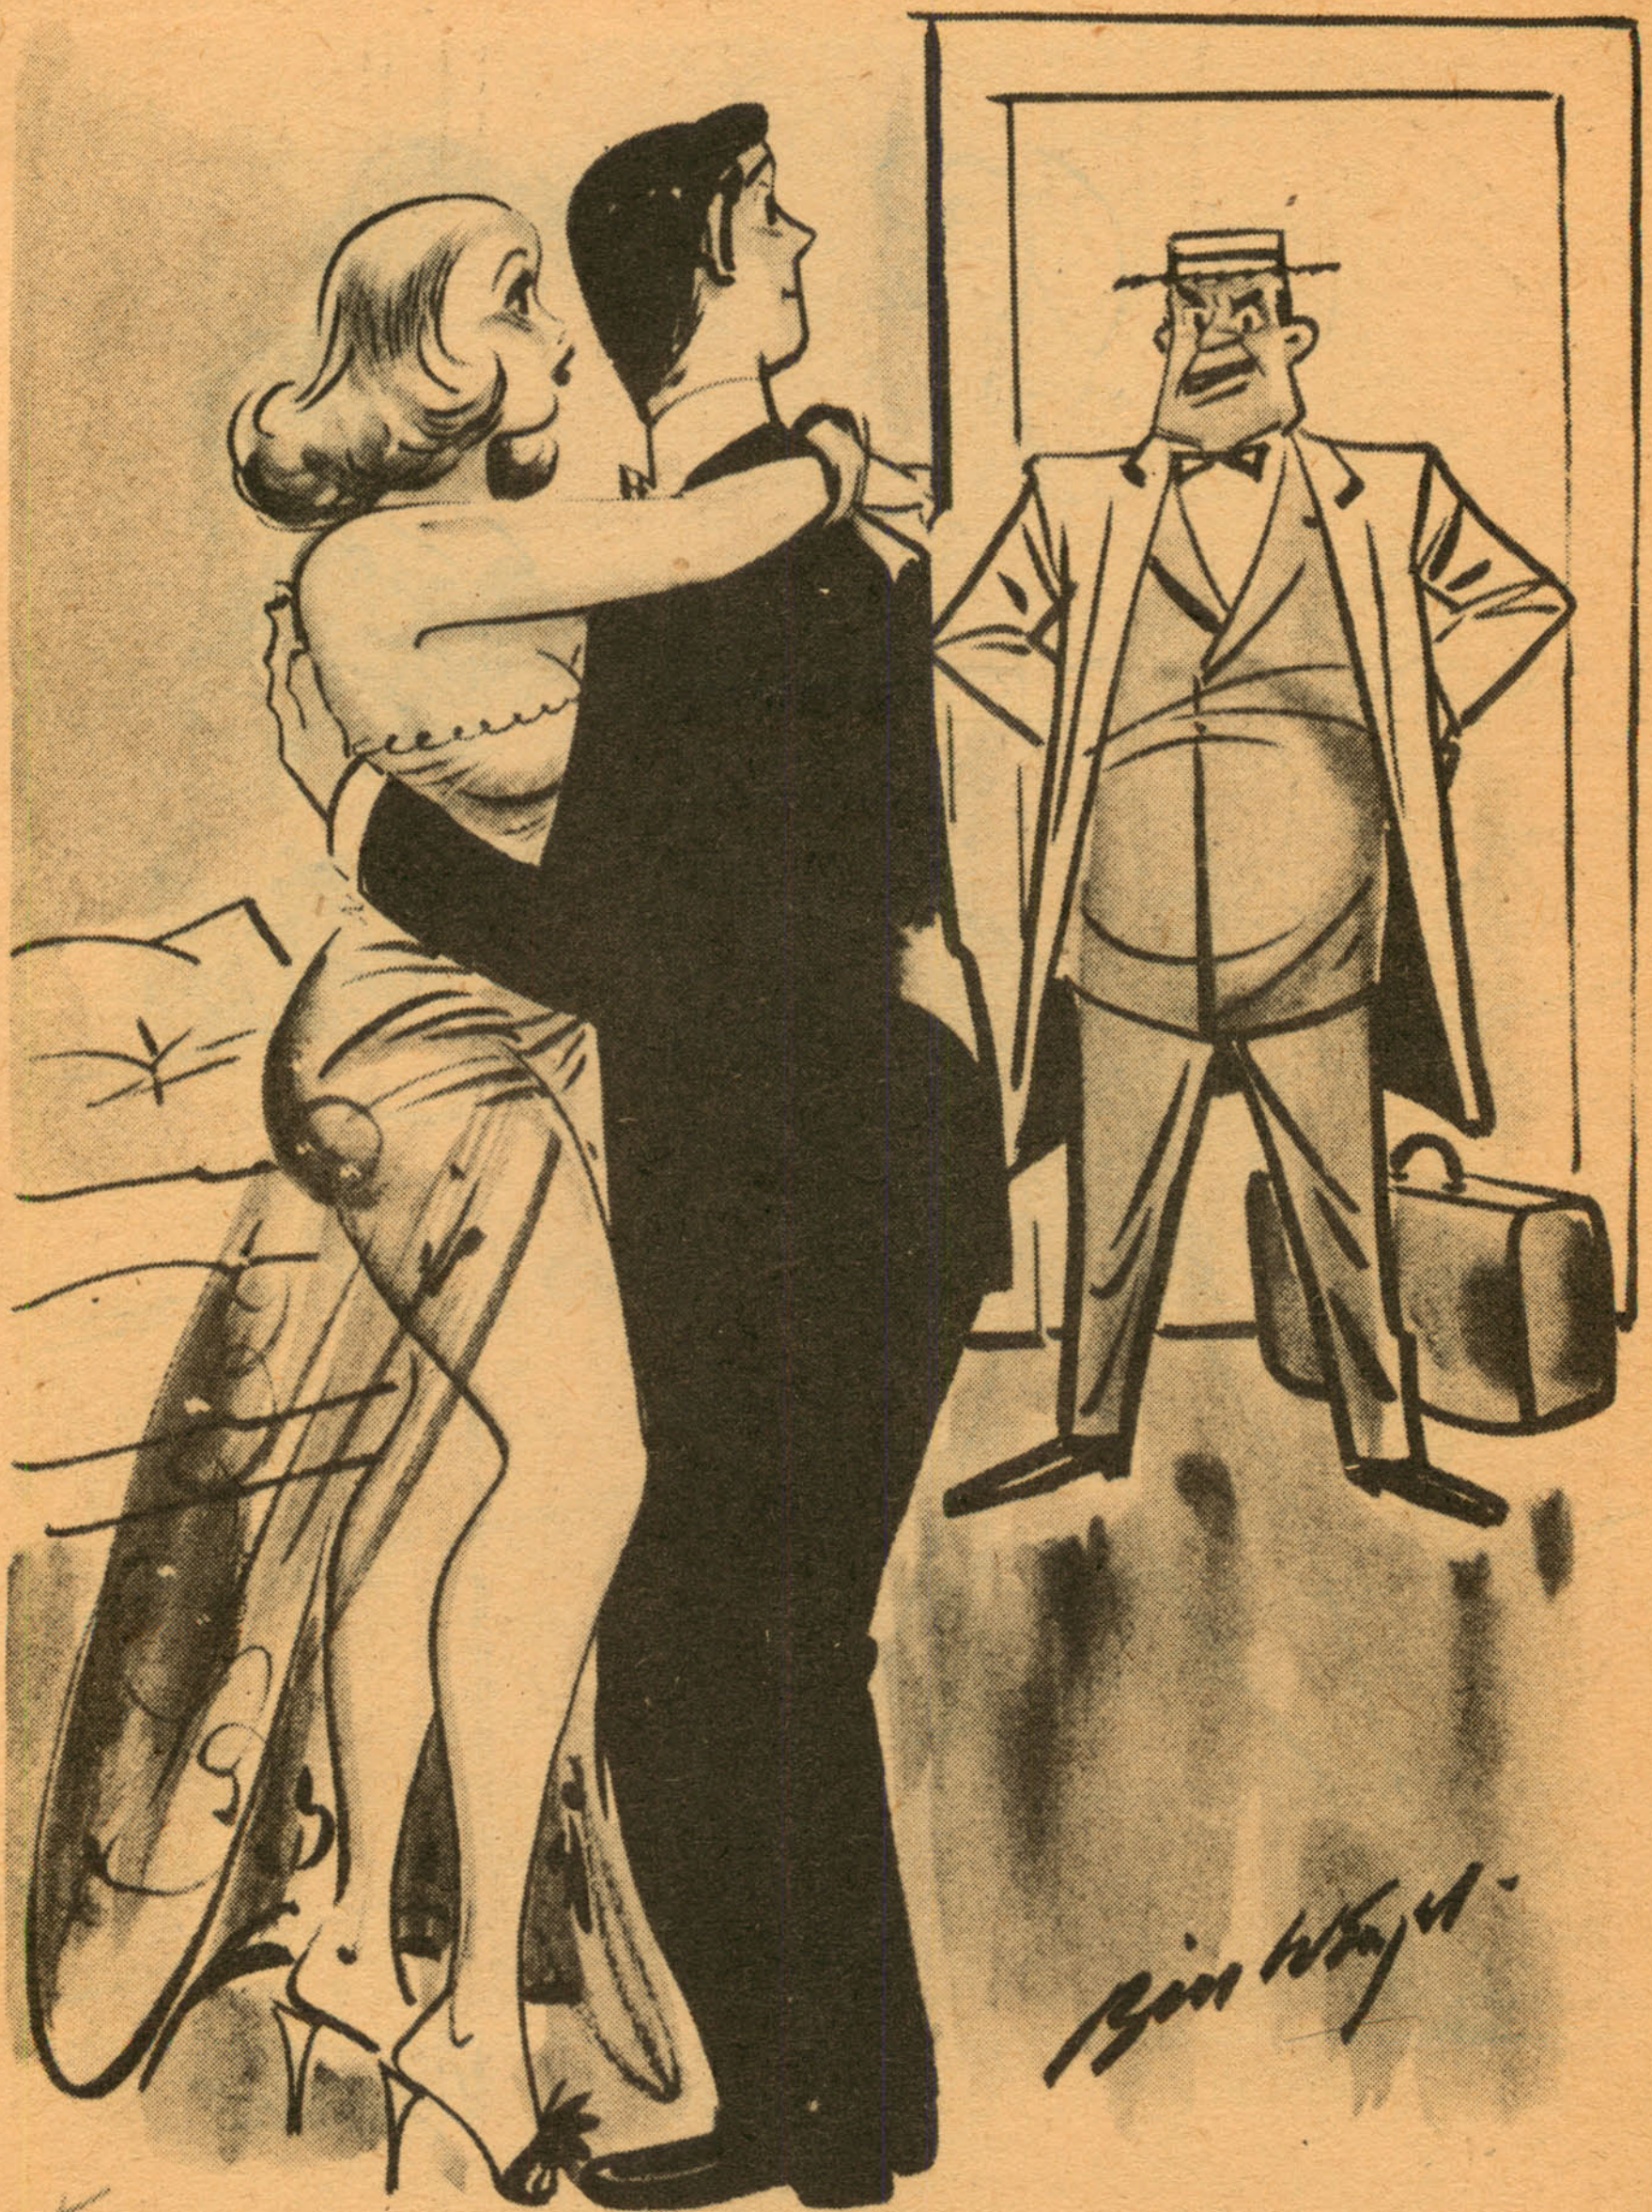

BREEZY

O.U. HUMMER, M.D.

"I'm here for my 10,000 mile check-up!"

"Well, I can see that you have a material advantage!"

MORRICE

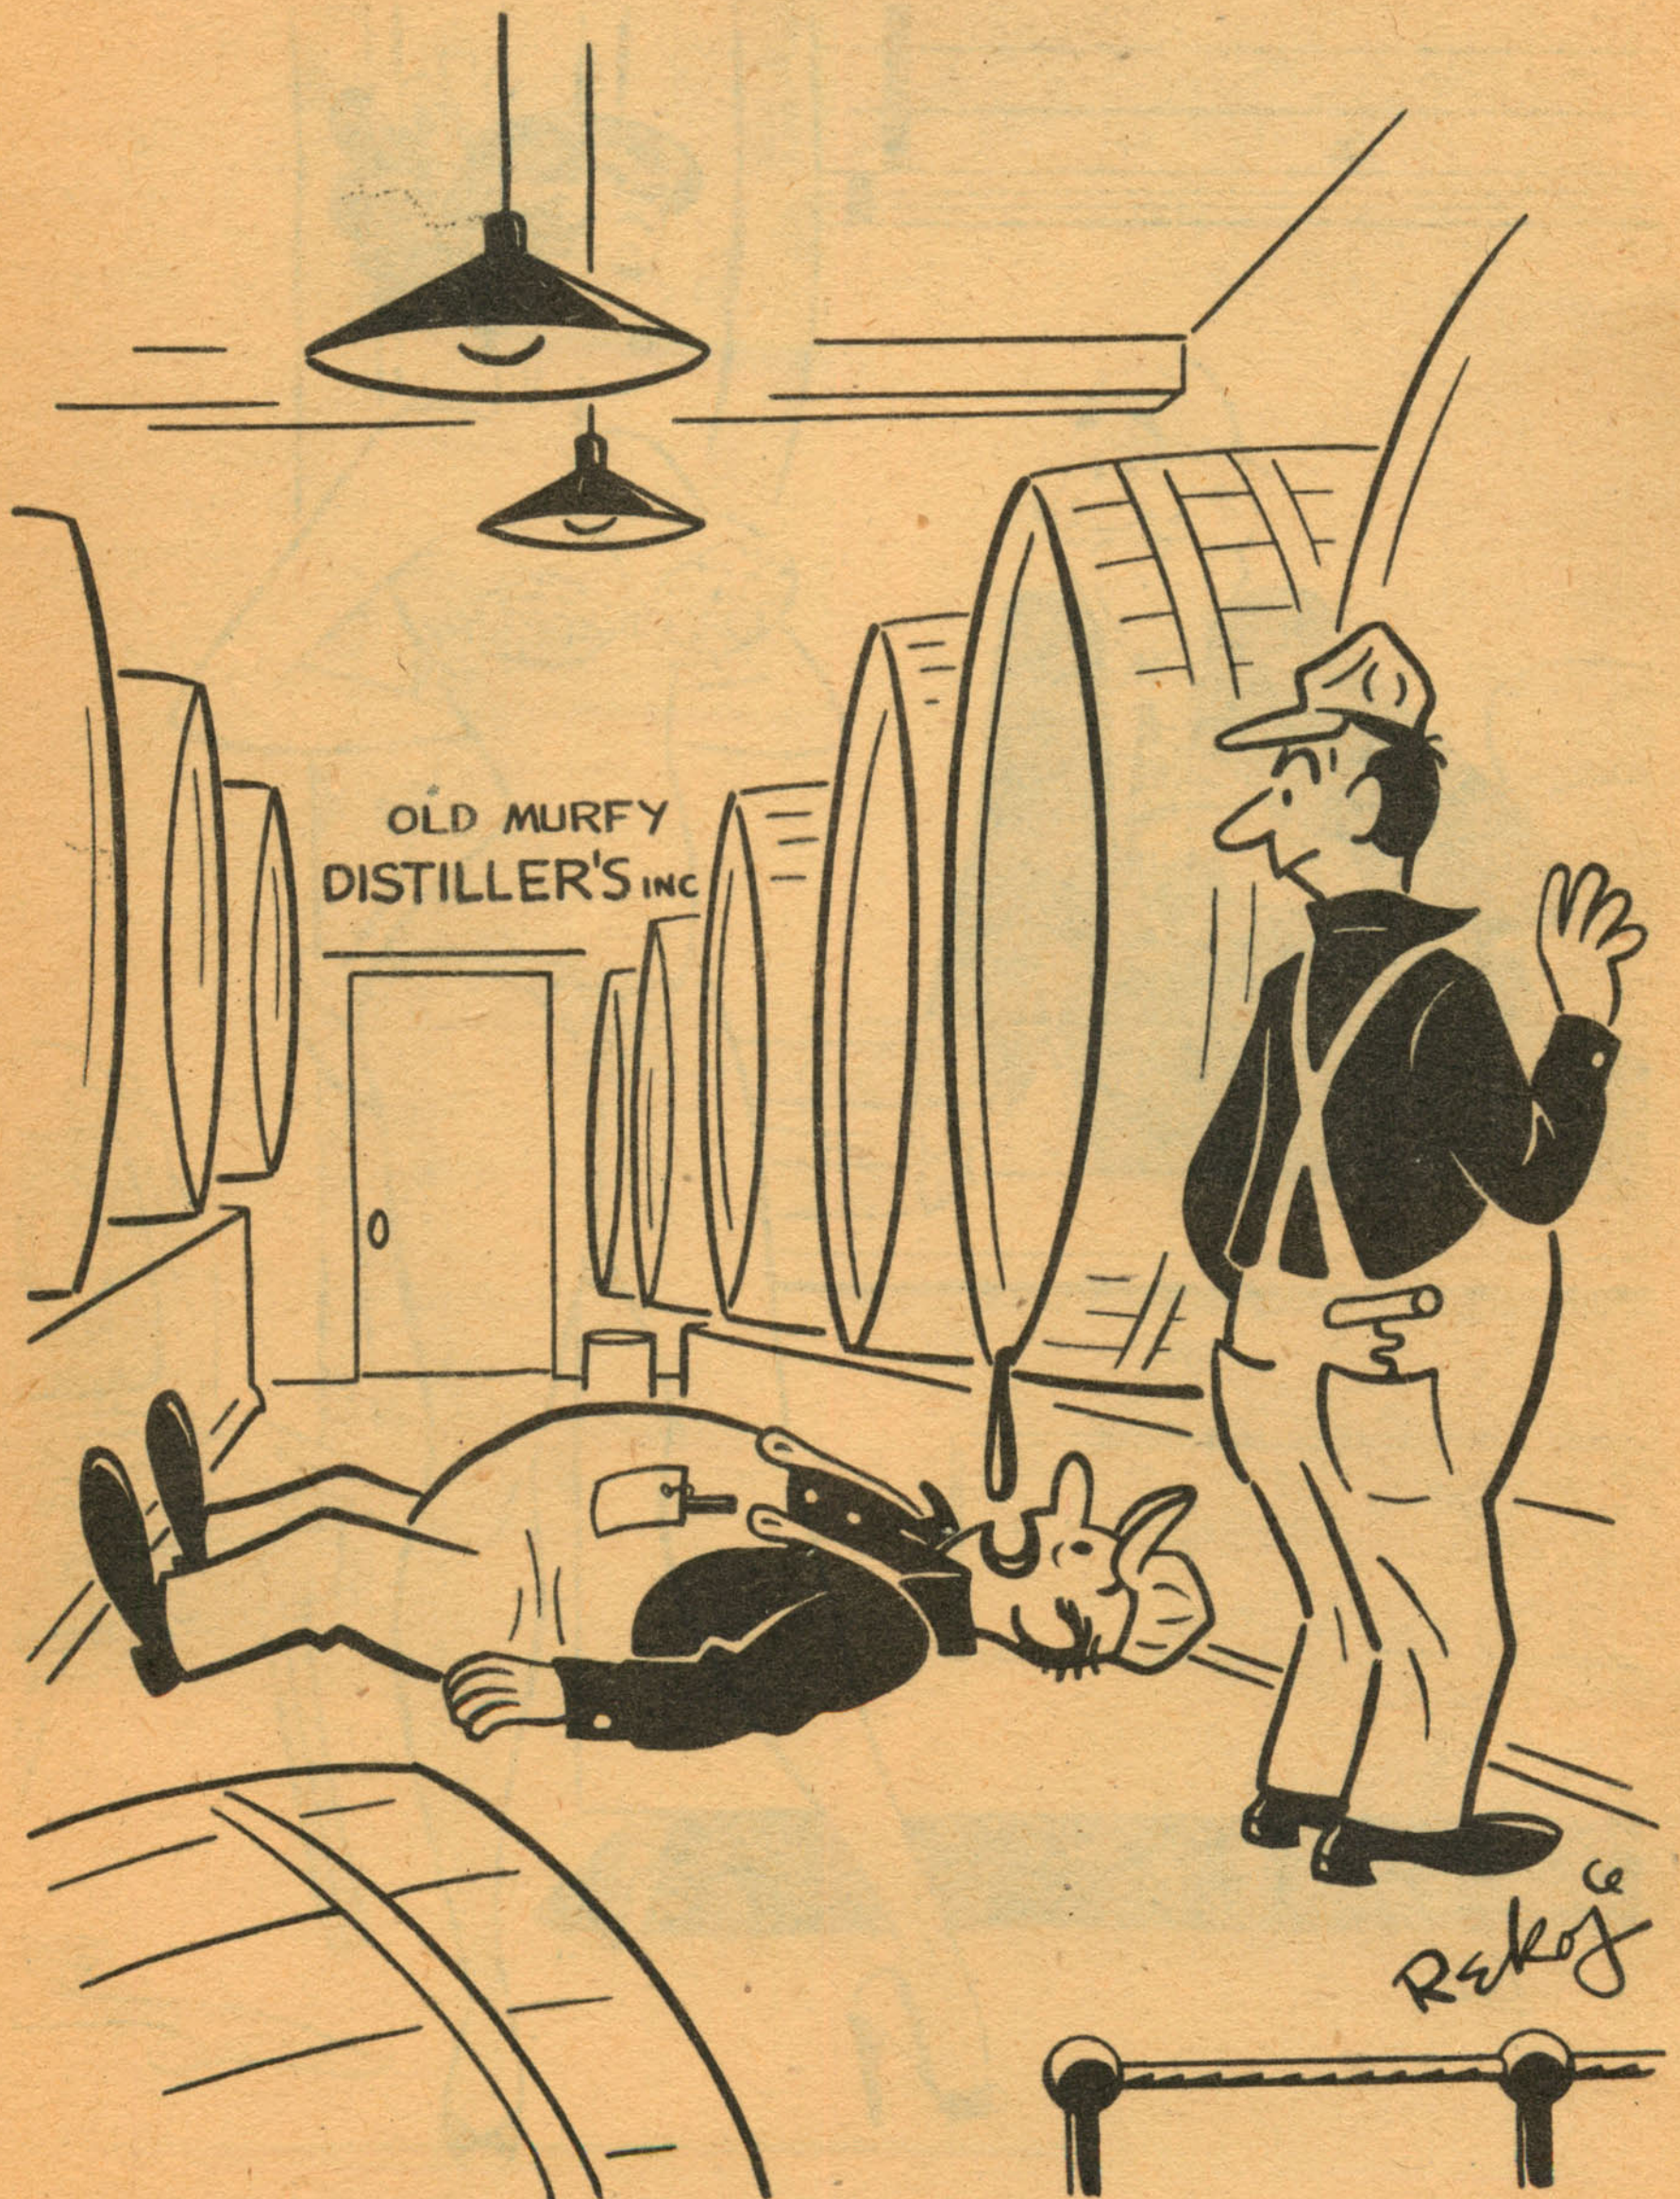

"Twenty dollars! No thank you . . . I'd rather go without!"

BREEZY

"Very nice—but we advertised for a stripper to strip tinfoil from cigarette packs!"

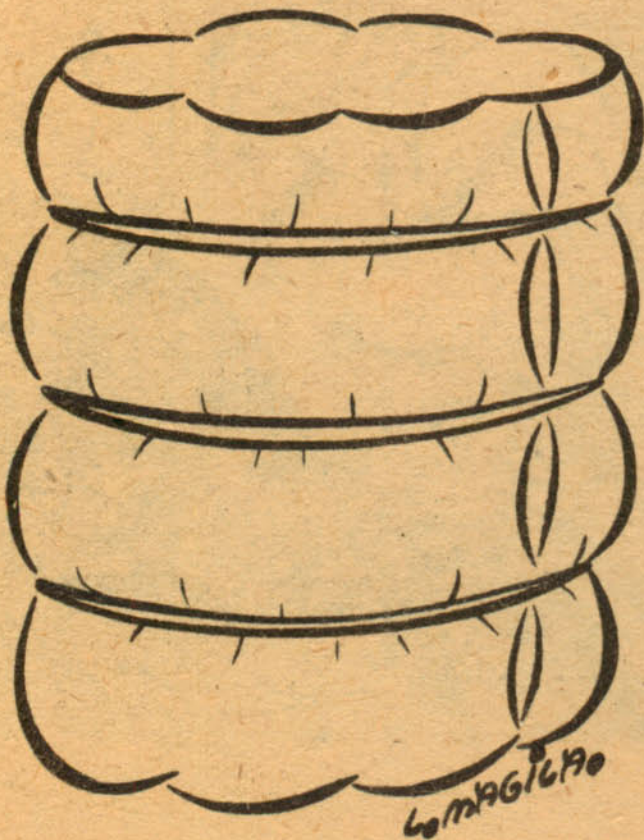

BREEZY

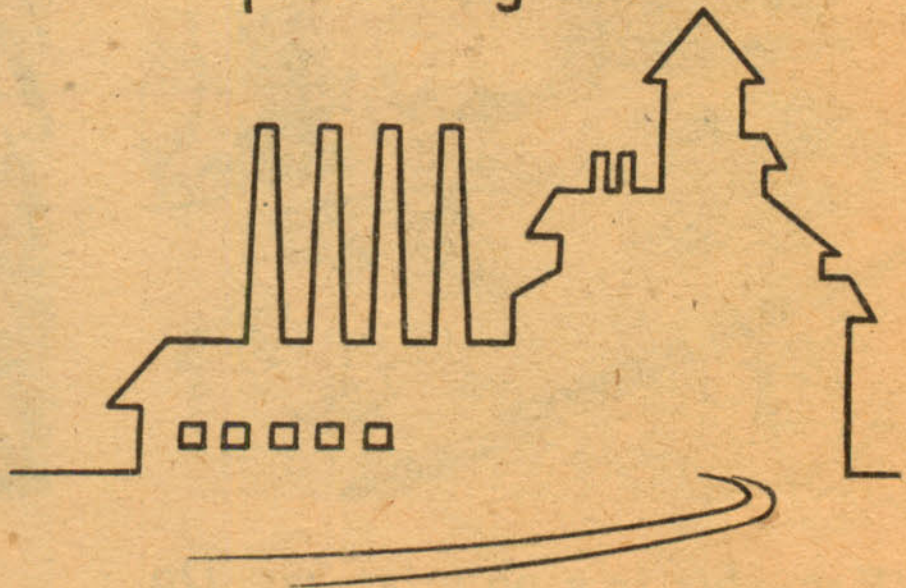

"—slow leak—I'll stay here while you report it!"

FROM BEGINNING TO END!

1. Once there was a big
2000 lb. bale of wool —

2. Which went to the world's largest processing mill —

3.
And came out a month
later as a finished piece of yarn about two feet long —

"Yes, this is a popular bar. Do you hang out here all the time?"

"You're not a pioneer and I'm not a covered wagon!"

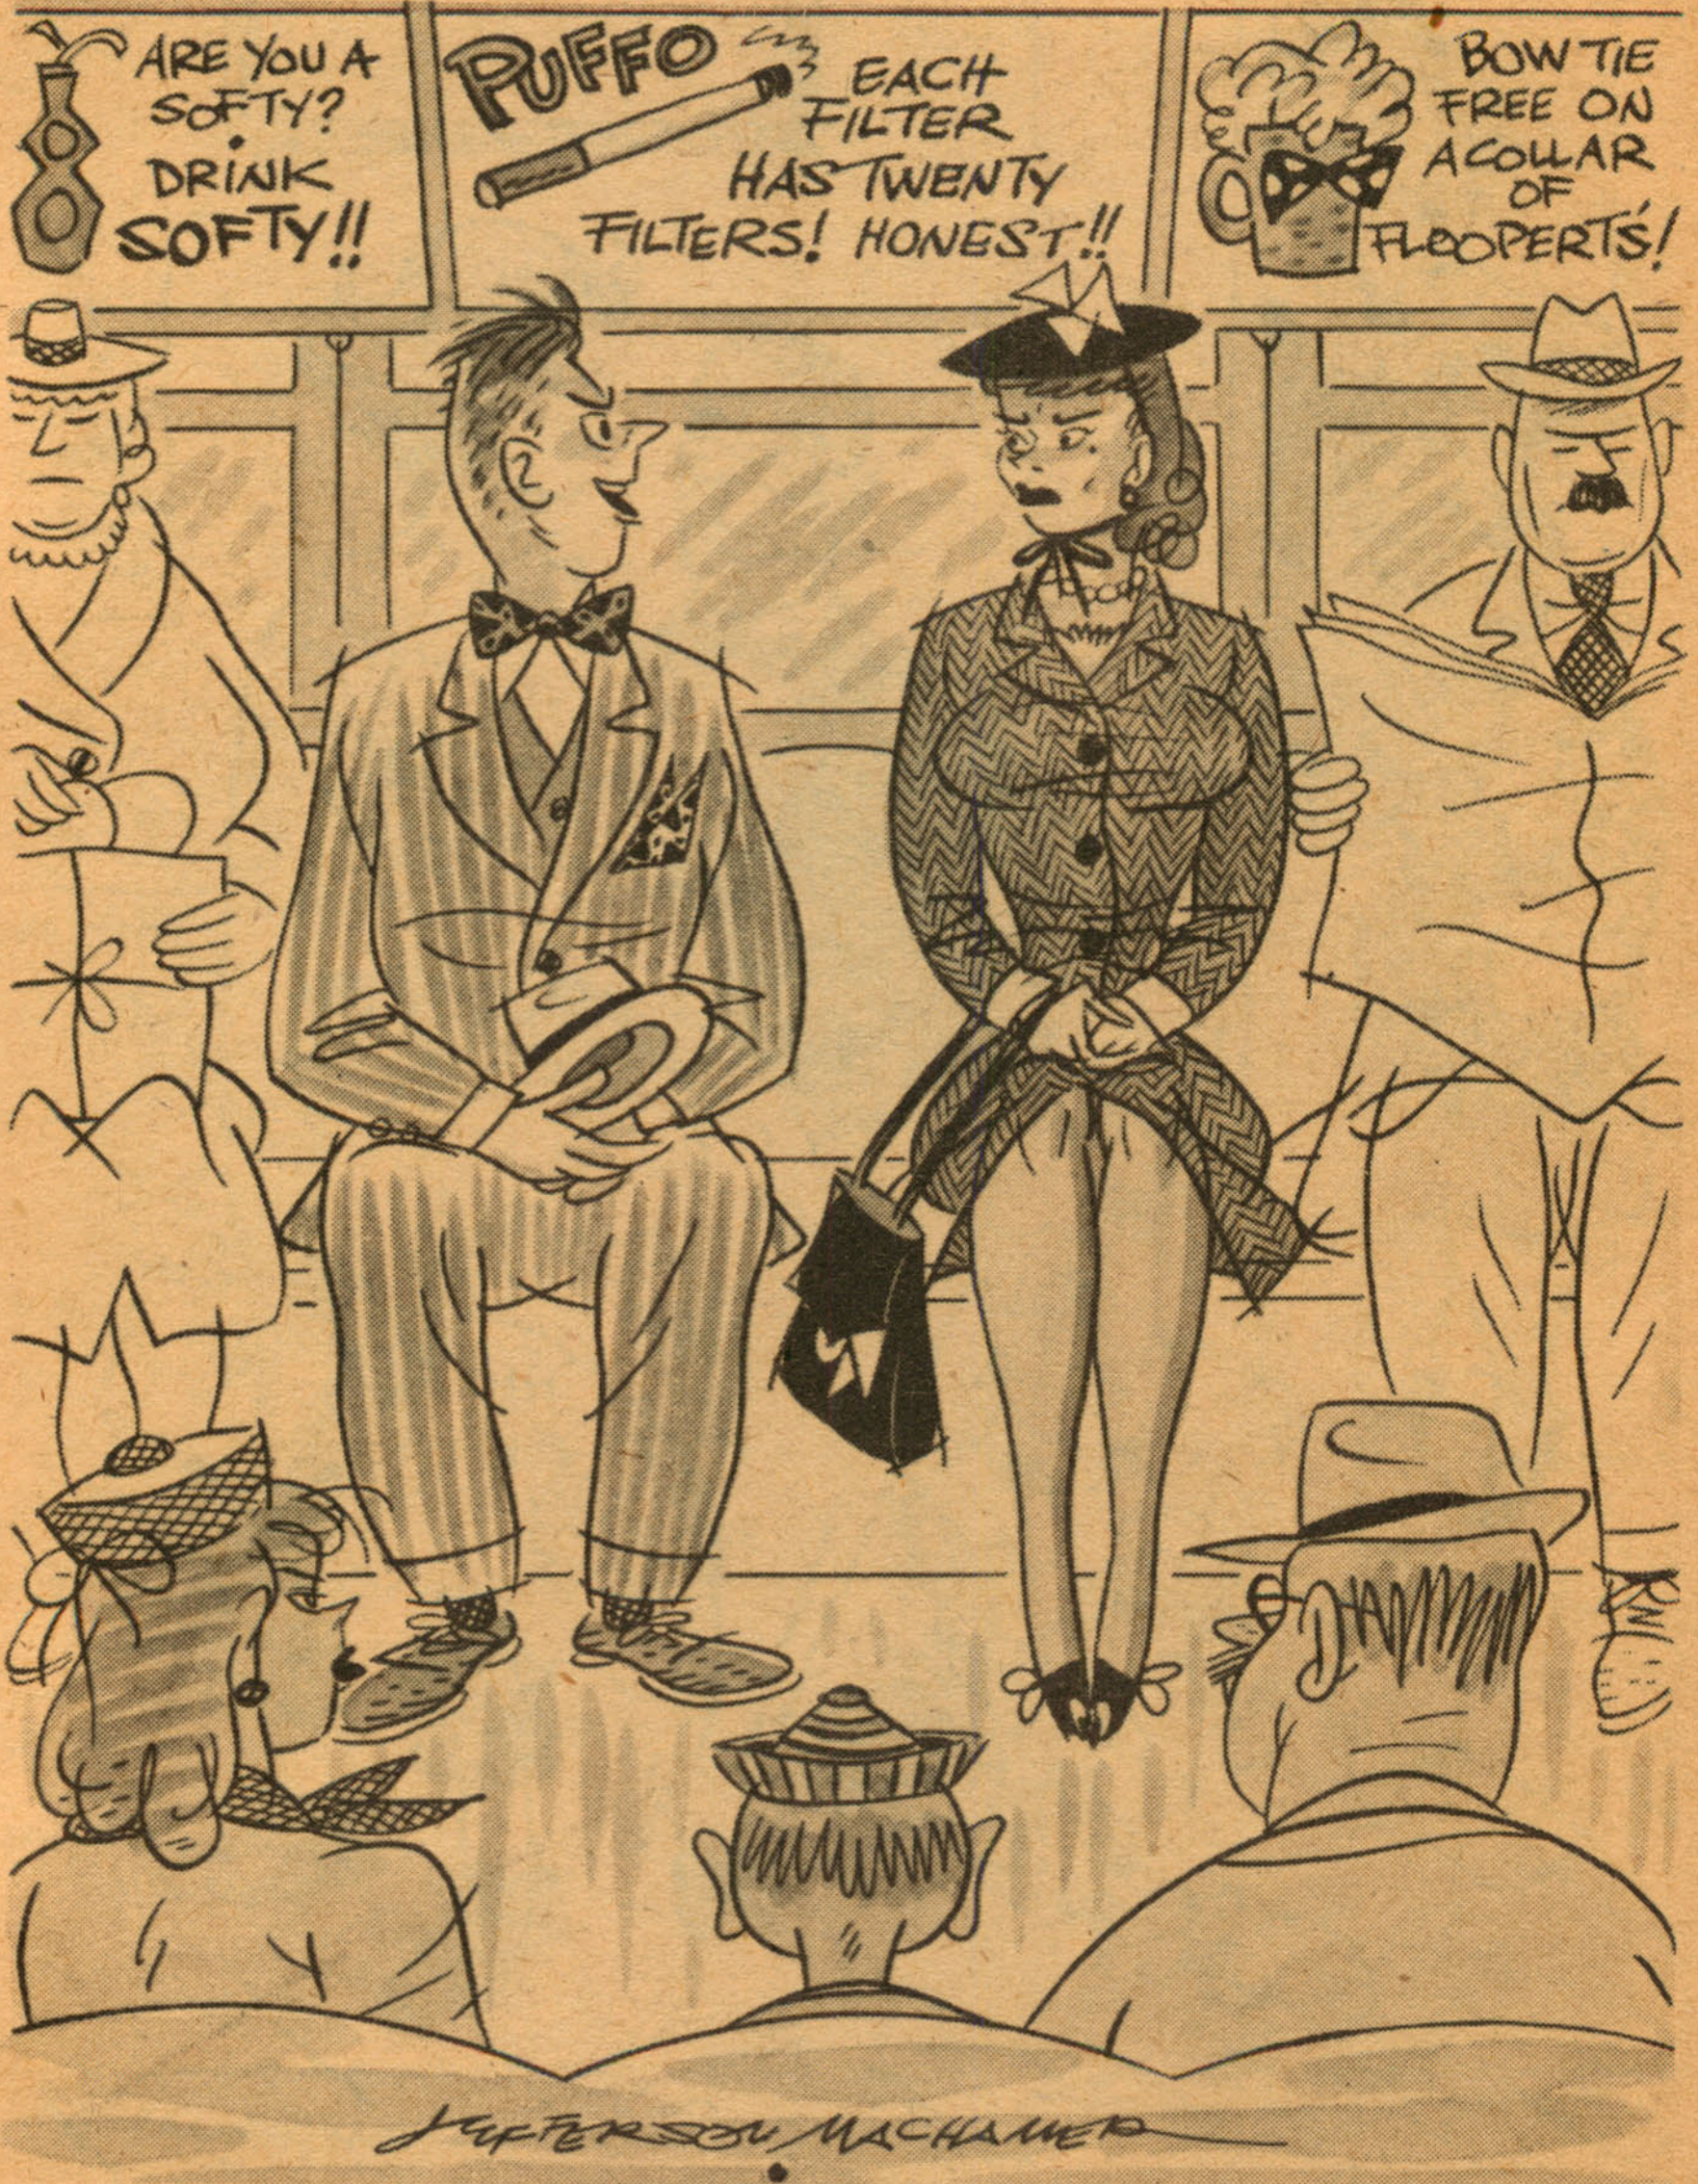

"I hope you don't think me forward, but on the other hand don't get any ideas that I'm backward!"

"He says he heard I came from Arizona . . . wants to know if I have a sense of Yuma!"

BREEZY

"Aren't you ever getting off, Miss? I'm two miles past my stop!"

"My wife knows every move I make—she used to be my secretary!"

"I always said you have a good head on your shoulders, Alfred!"

The young man had just completed college and decided to tour Europe in search for something new in milady's furs, before entering his papa's business. After months of searching, he returned home and exclaimed to papa:

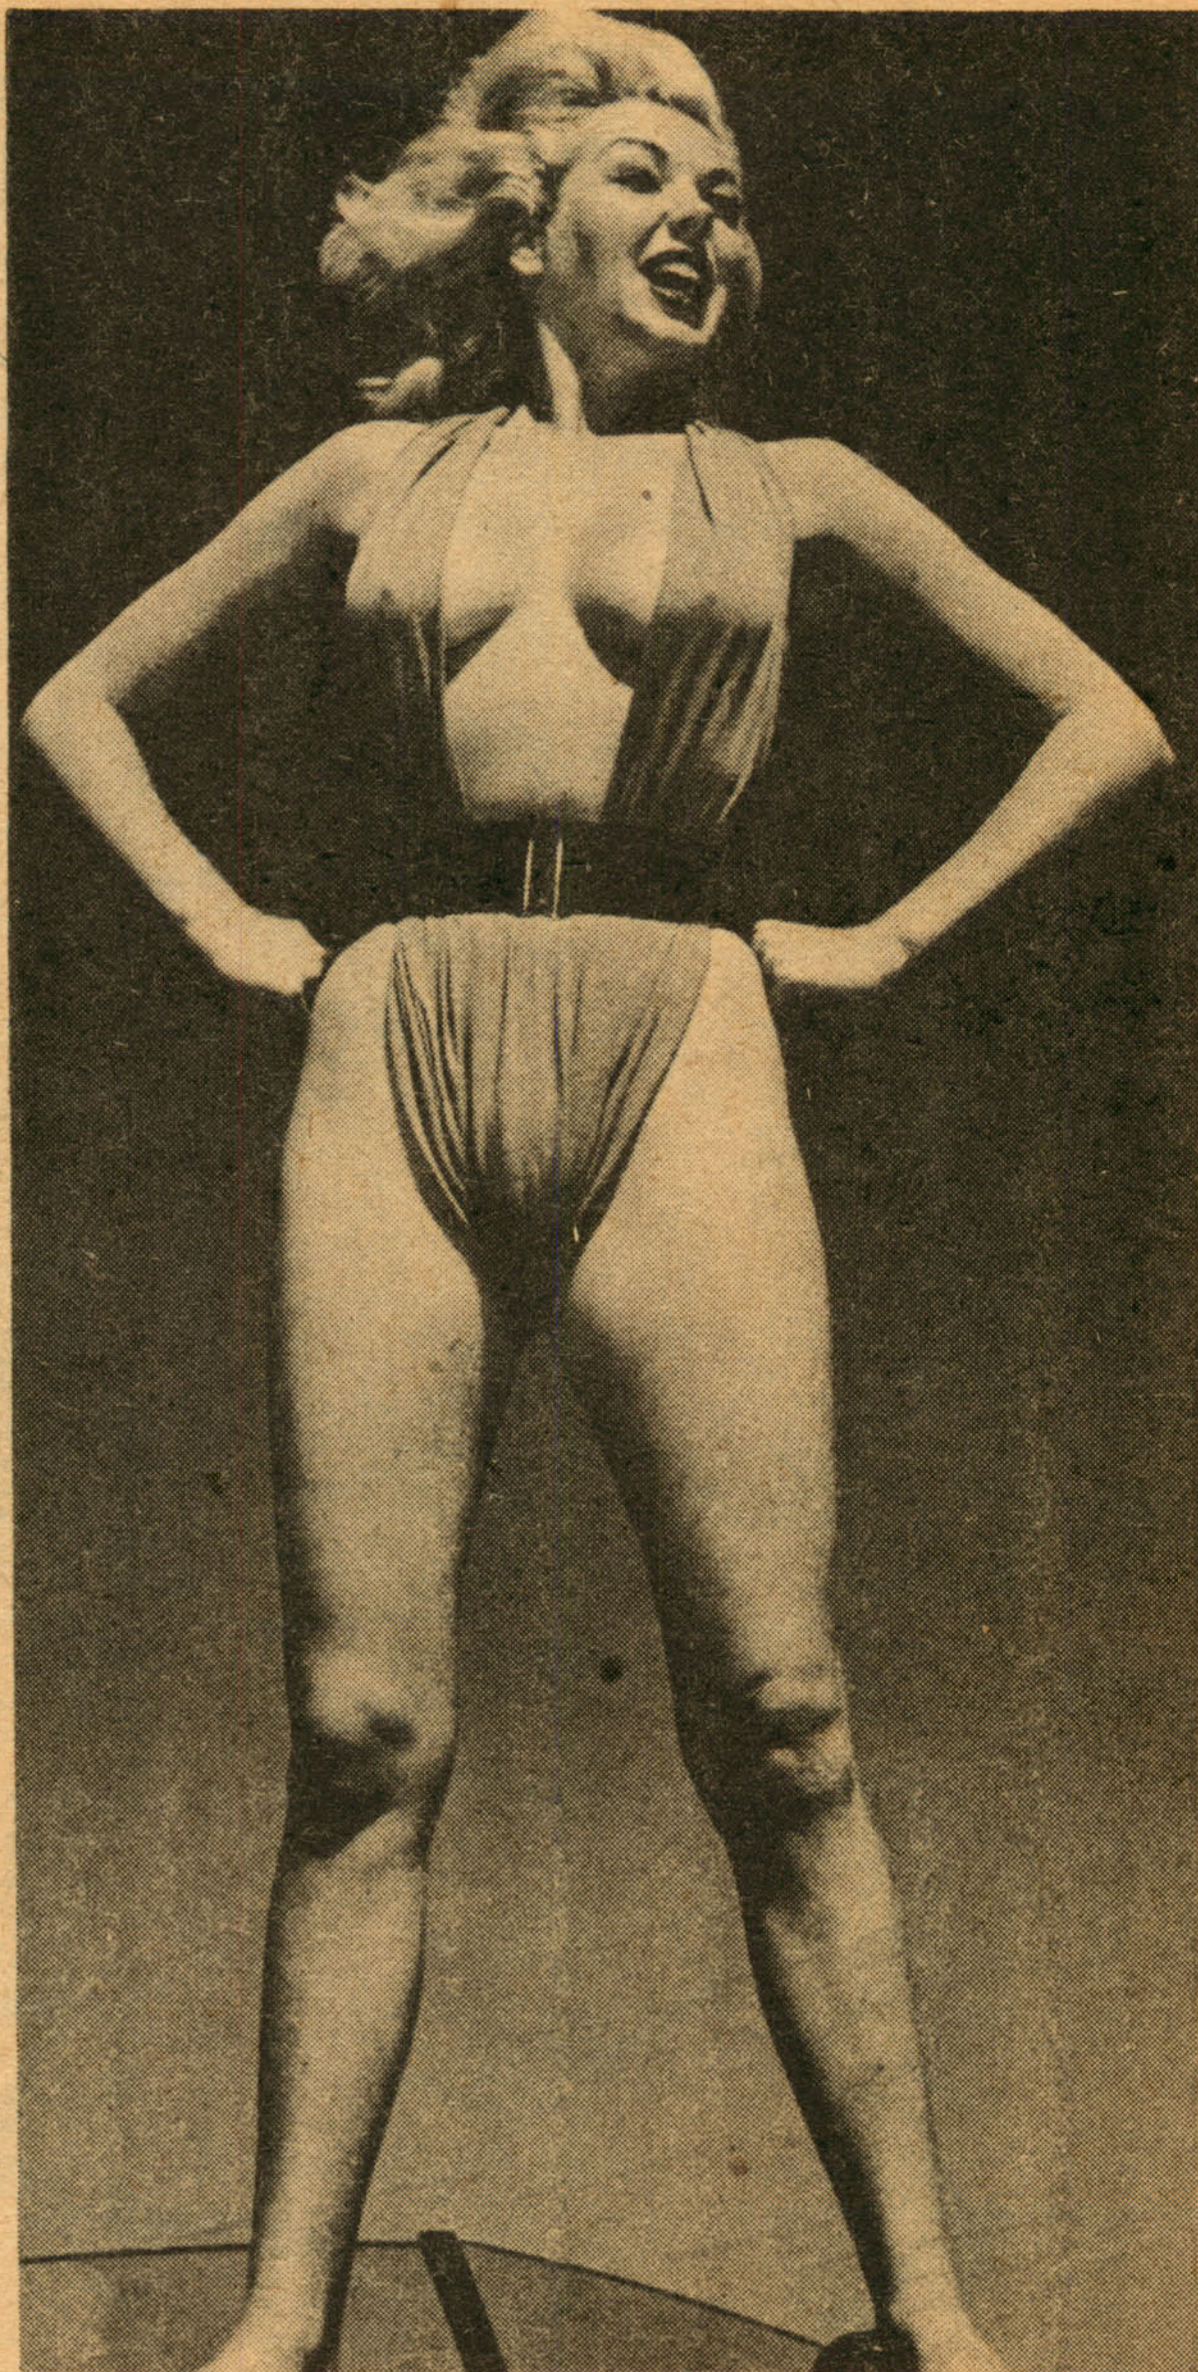

"I've found it! It'll revolutionize business, papa. It's a brand new idea; crossing mink with gorilla to get the loveliest fur you've ever seen."

"Crossing mink with gorilla?" repeated papa, "Son, it'll never work. The sleeves will be too long."

"When he said he wanted to commune with Nature, I told him he was much too Adam-antic!"

GAL-O-RAMA! JANE EASTON

"If a girl is really clever, she can get so close to a man that when he tries to kiss her, she can't get away!"

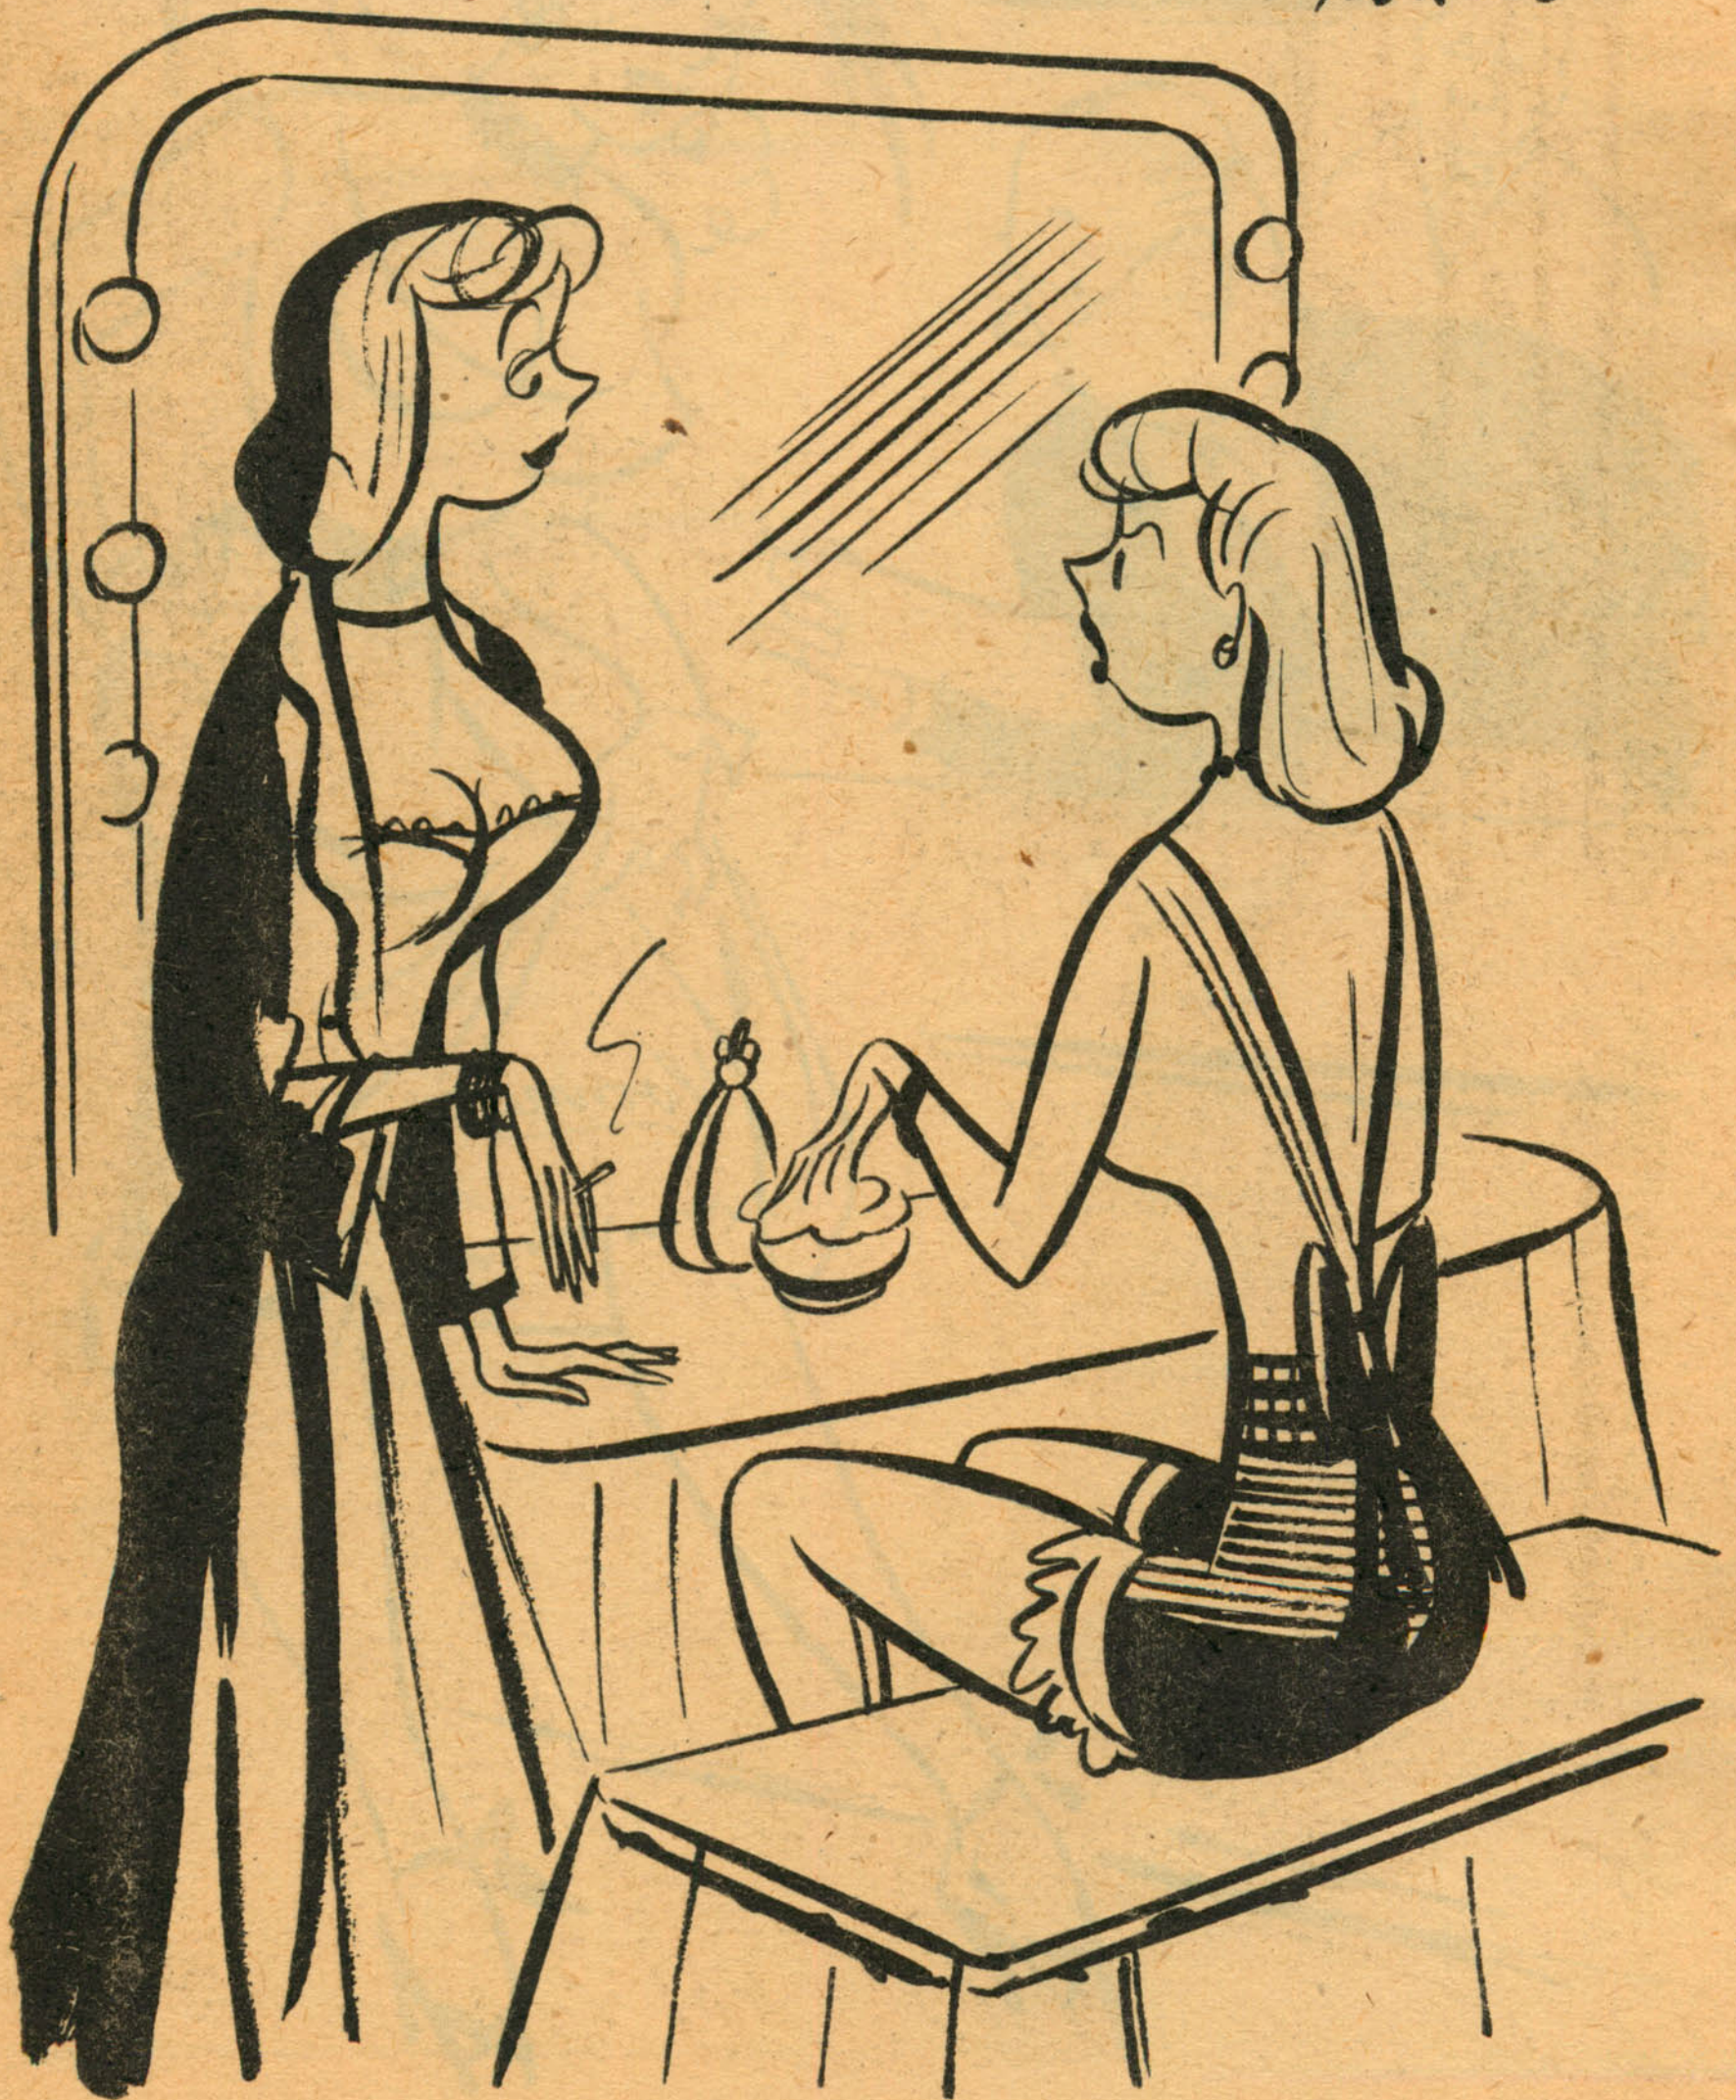

"It's much better for me for you to be a marked man!"

DRY MANHATTAN
BANK

"Will this do for identification?"

John Markow

"He has one of the nicest penthouses I ever screamed in!"

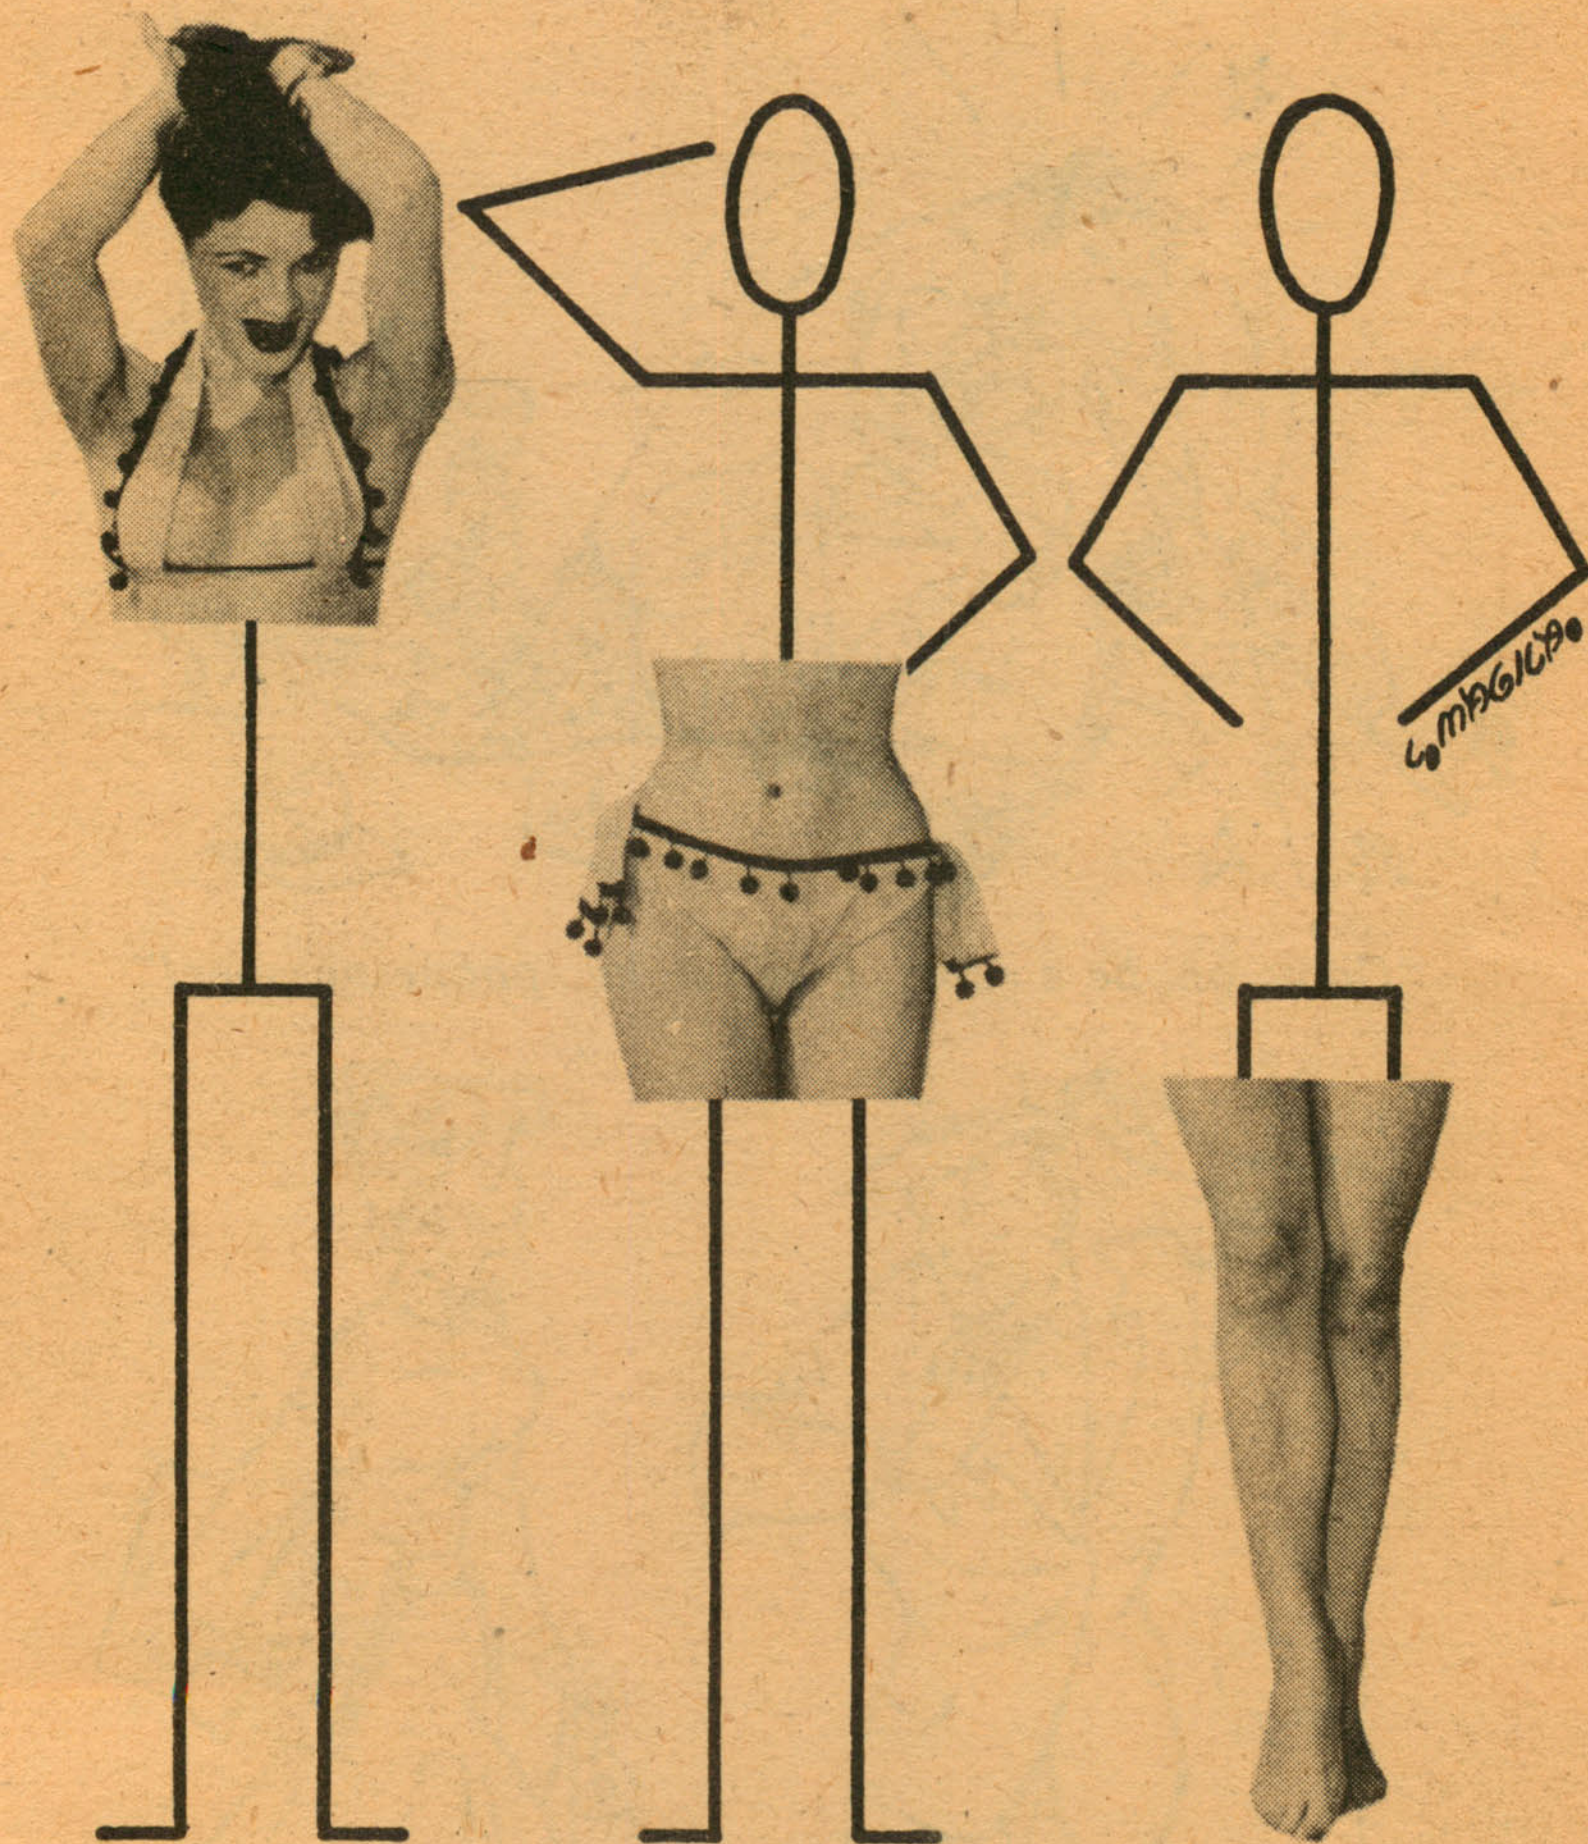

BREEZY

"Your suggestion has promise, Fred; you sit on your hands while I sift the possibilities!"

"Remember, Kidley, you're a trusted employee!"

COMPREHENSION ABOUT DIMENSION

LEAVES EVERYTHING IN SUSPENSION

THAT FRENCH HUMOR!

"Come on, be a sport, give me her phone number!"

"I see you're a singer, Miss; I play the piano; mind if I accompany you?"

BREEZY

"How do you expect me to be working everytime you walk in when you wear rubber heels?"

"Your act was certainly a success this time, kid!"

"This is all very nice, but it was my finger I sprained!"

FROM HERE TO MATURITY!

"Do you want a bond?"

"Sure, honey!"

"What size?"

"Your size!"

"What do you mean—my size?"

"Just what I said—your size!"

"I mean—what denomination?"

"I don't care. I'm sociable!"

"Listen, do you want it right now or tonight?"

"Tonight—and don't talk so loud. My wife's right over there!"

"I don't understand. Anyway, do you want it delivered to your house?"

"Are you nuts? I just got through telling you I was married!"

"Well, where do you want it delivered?"

"How about the Bide-A-Bit Motel?"

"A motel? Well, I don't know. I guess it could be arranged."

"Fine. I'll get over there about nine o'clock and get registered!"

"You mean you don't live there?"

"Don't be silly. But I'll be living tonight!"

"You will?"

"I sure will, baby. And you're the one I can thank for it, too."

"You don't have to thank me. I'm the one who ought to thank you. And the government should thank you, too."

"They should?"

"Of course."

"Well, that's nice of them. But I think the government's getting kind of nosey in a deal like this!"

"They're not, really. Well, now you can give me $18.75."

"$18.75? Are you kidding? That's too much!"

"Well, it's the lowest priced bond there is."

"BOND? DID YOU SAY BOND? I THOUGHT YOU SAID BLONDE!"

"Your idea sounds logical, but just give me one good reason . . . no teasin'!"

BREEZY

"Tomorrow it's your turn to furnish the shade!"

"Running up the water bill again?"

WHEWS! & VIEWS! CYNTHIS BROOKS

"A tavern is merely a place where it's thirst come, thirst served!"

"Father had to go out to a grange meeting tonight!"

A man from Houston, Tex. was visiting in Minnesota and went fishing one day on one of the lakes that help to make that state famous. He engaged in conversation with a man from Minneapolis, who was also trying to lure the finny tribe with several kinds of bait.

"Down in my home state we catch lots of eighteen-inch fish," said the Texan.

"That's nothing", said the Minnesotan; "we catch fish up here three, four, and even six feet long."

"My friend", answered the Texan, "at home we measure fish between the eyes!"

THAT FRENCH HUMOR!

"I can't remember seeing that tree when we entered the water!"

WHEWS! & VIEWS! VICKI WELLS

"The thing that makes a lot of men lose their desire for romance, is when the wife comes down to the office and fires his secretary!"

"She looked for a job all day, Samuel, but nobody wants to pay enough for a wardrobe mistress!"

BREEZY

"It won't do you any good to call your Mother. I forgot to pay the phone bill for this month!"

THAT'S MY GAIL!

Unusually refreshing,
Like a gentle breeze.
Just about the nicest girl
One could want to please.

Like a gentle breeze you say?
Have you crossed her path?
You would think a cyclone struck
If you felt her wrath!

"Cigars, cigarettes, oxygen?"

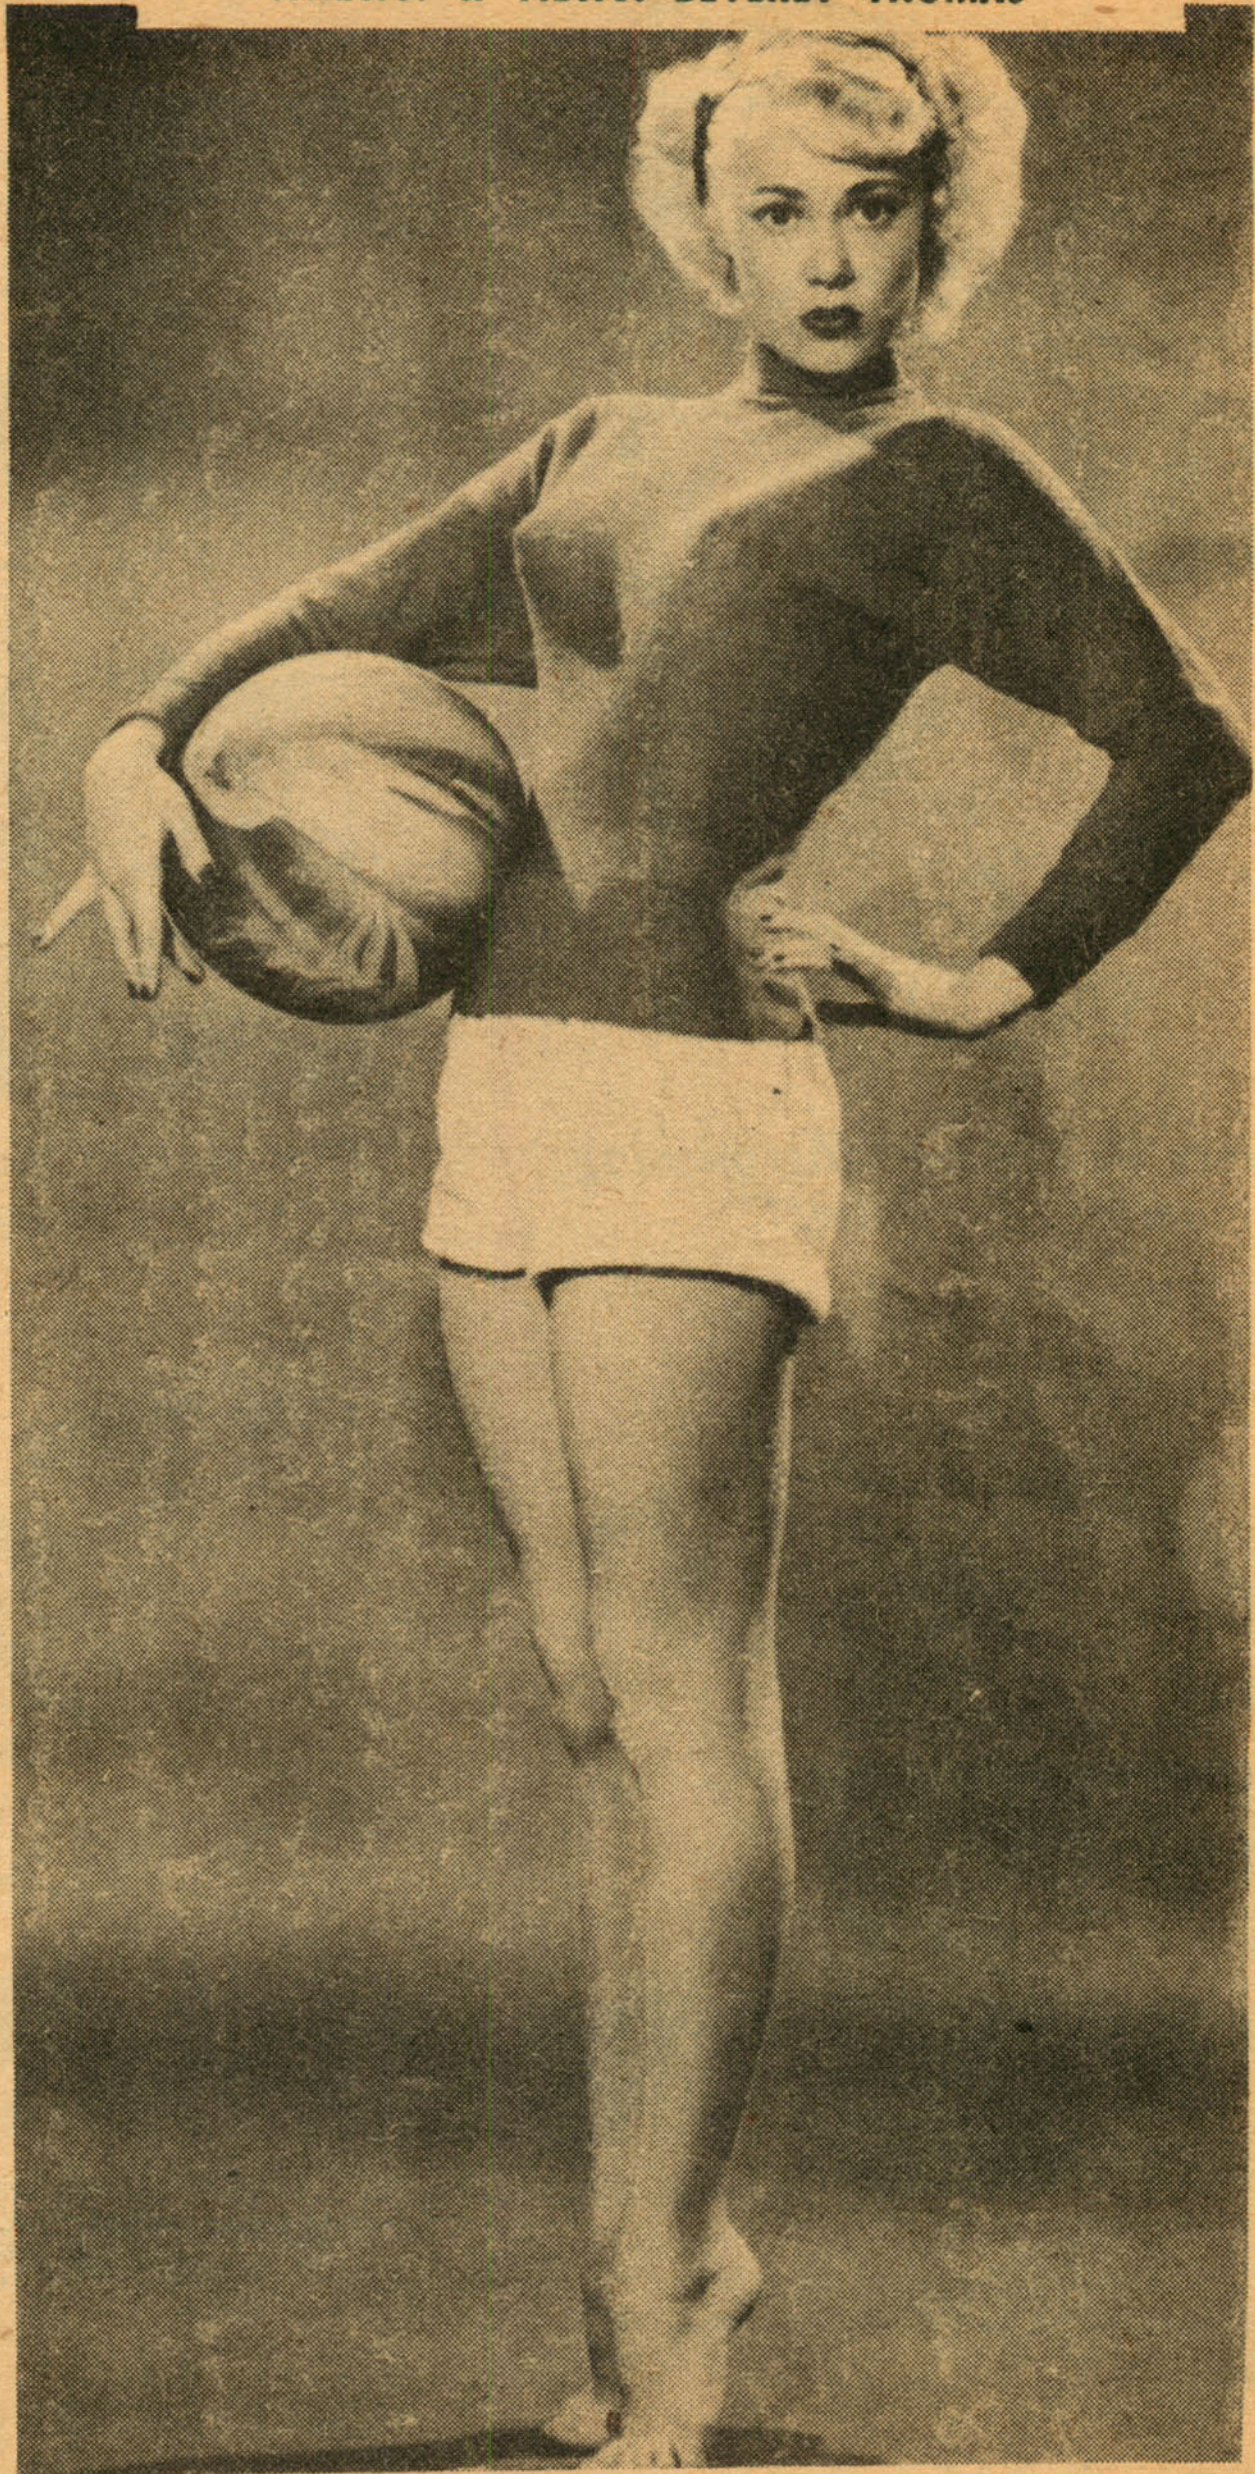

BREEZY

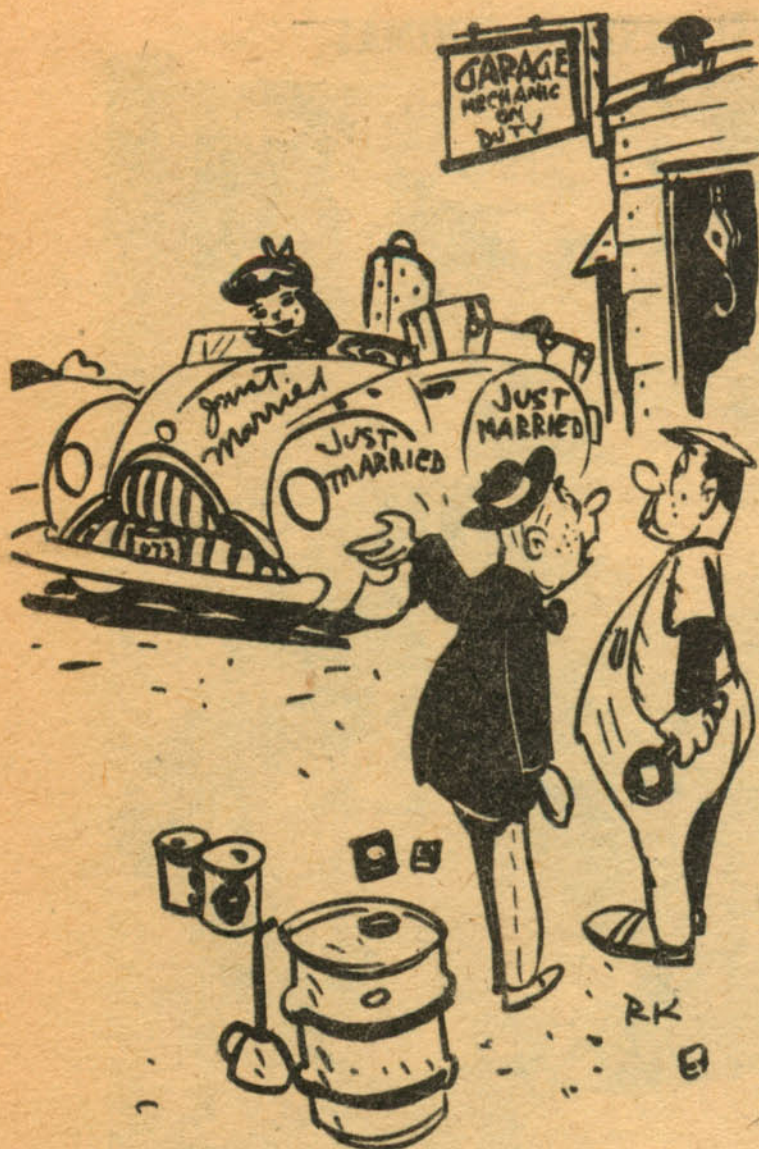

"A friend of the Mayor's? Wow! Wait'll I tell his wife!"

WHEWS! & VIEWS! BEVERLY THOMAS

"In the game of love, some fellows treat their girls like a basketball . . . they just won't latch on until she makes the first pass!"

"There was something missing when I got her!"

"Just like a man . . . now it's legal, you're not interested!"

"Please, sir, only one to a customer!"

"I'm at the loan company office, Harry. They're holding me up for the interest!"

WHEWS! & VIEWS! ANITA GAMBLE

"Men will make passes at girls who lift glasses!"

"Oh, darn! Left my money in my other stocking!"

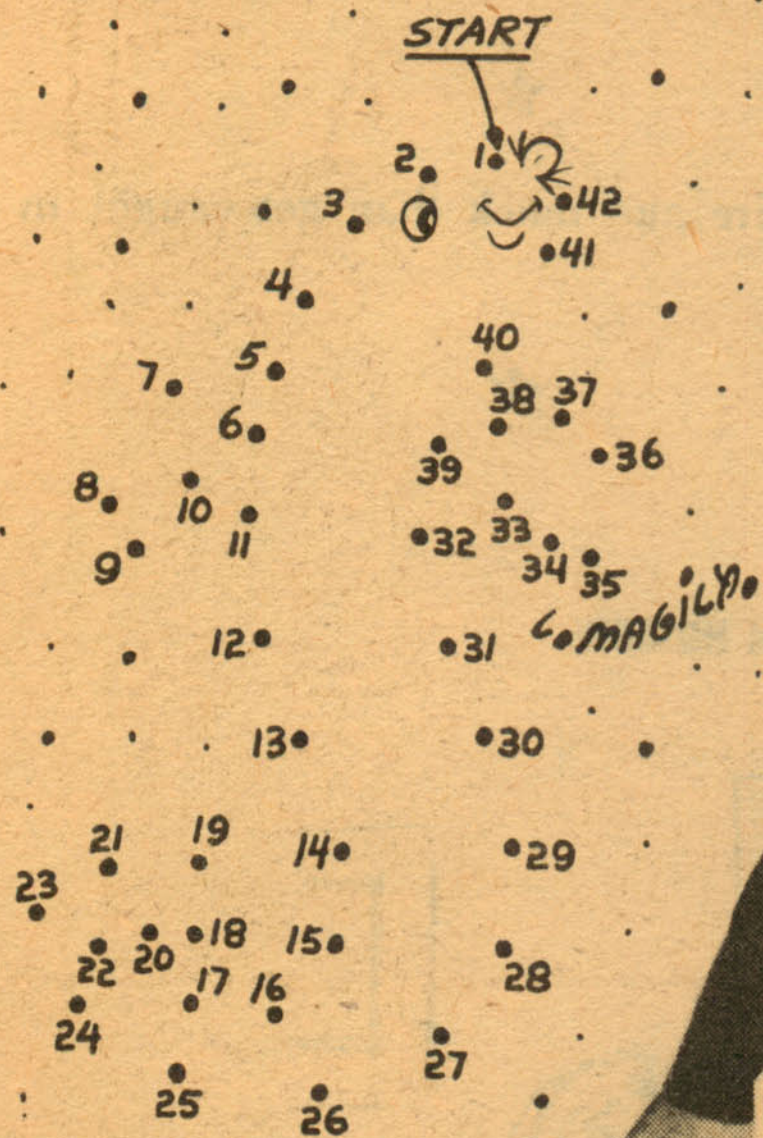

"Just a minute! Didn't you say this was an all-inclusive tour?"

BREEZY

"Nice set you've got. Come in and I'll add it to my collection!"

Somebody saw our gal spill the salt!
Who was it?

MARRIAGE WOWS!

Goodbyes are better unsaid. Hellos are sweetest at bed!

I would rather get bogged in mire and muck than get caught in trousers with the zipper stuck!

THAT FRENCH HUMOR!

"If you don't get here in five minutes, Elsie—I can't guarantee a double date!"

BREEZY

“I mixed your drink ten minutes ago—it’s right under your nose!”

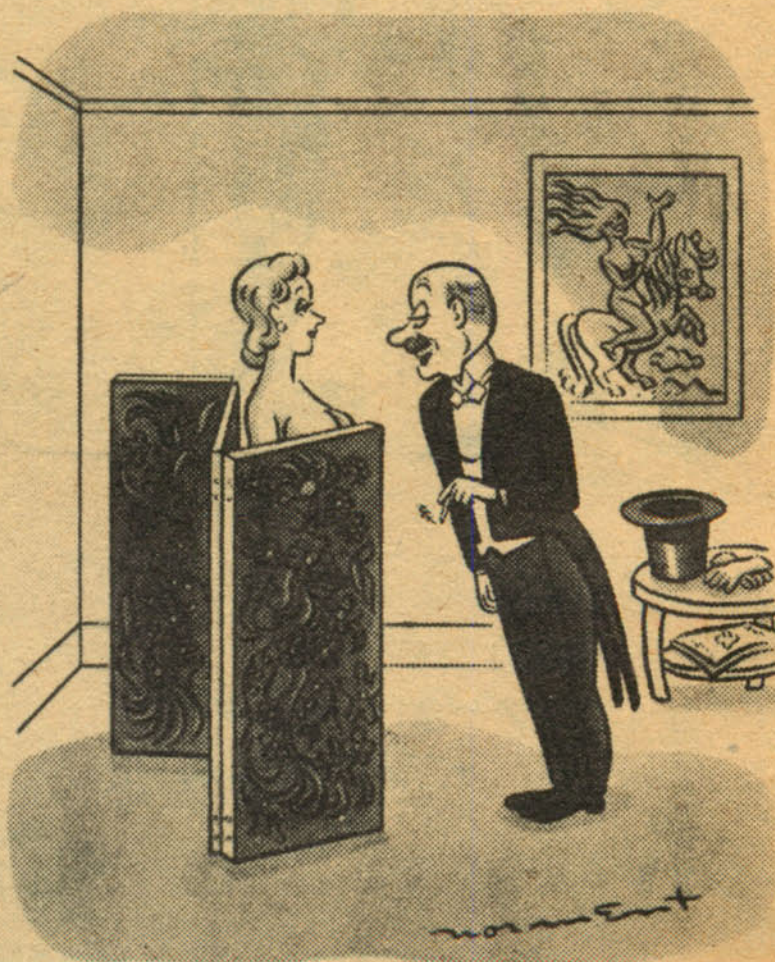

"If you followed the Wall Street Gazette, you'd know that I always come out on top!"

"When I ask you to exhale, please don't make like a hurricane!"

"This isn't a pinch... the building was condemned and the girls are being moved to safety!"

"Well, I must say! A strapless gown certainly emphasizes the line of the neck and shoulders!"

BREEZY

"Oh, it's you Betty, I must have dialed the wrong number—I was trying to get the Fire Department—but now that you are on the phone, we can chat a bit—I've got loads of things to tell you. . . .!"

WHEWS! & VIEWS! DIANE WAGNER

"The poet who said a smile doesn't cost a cent, didn't know much about women!"

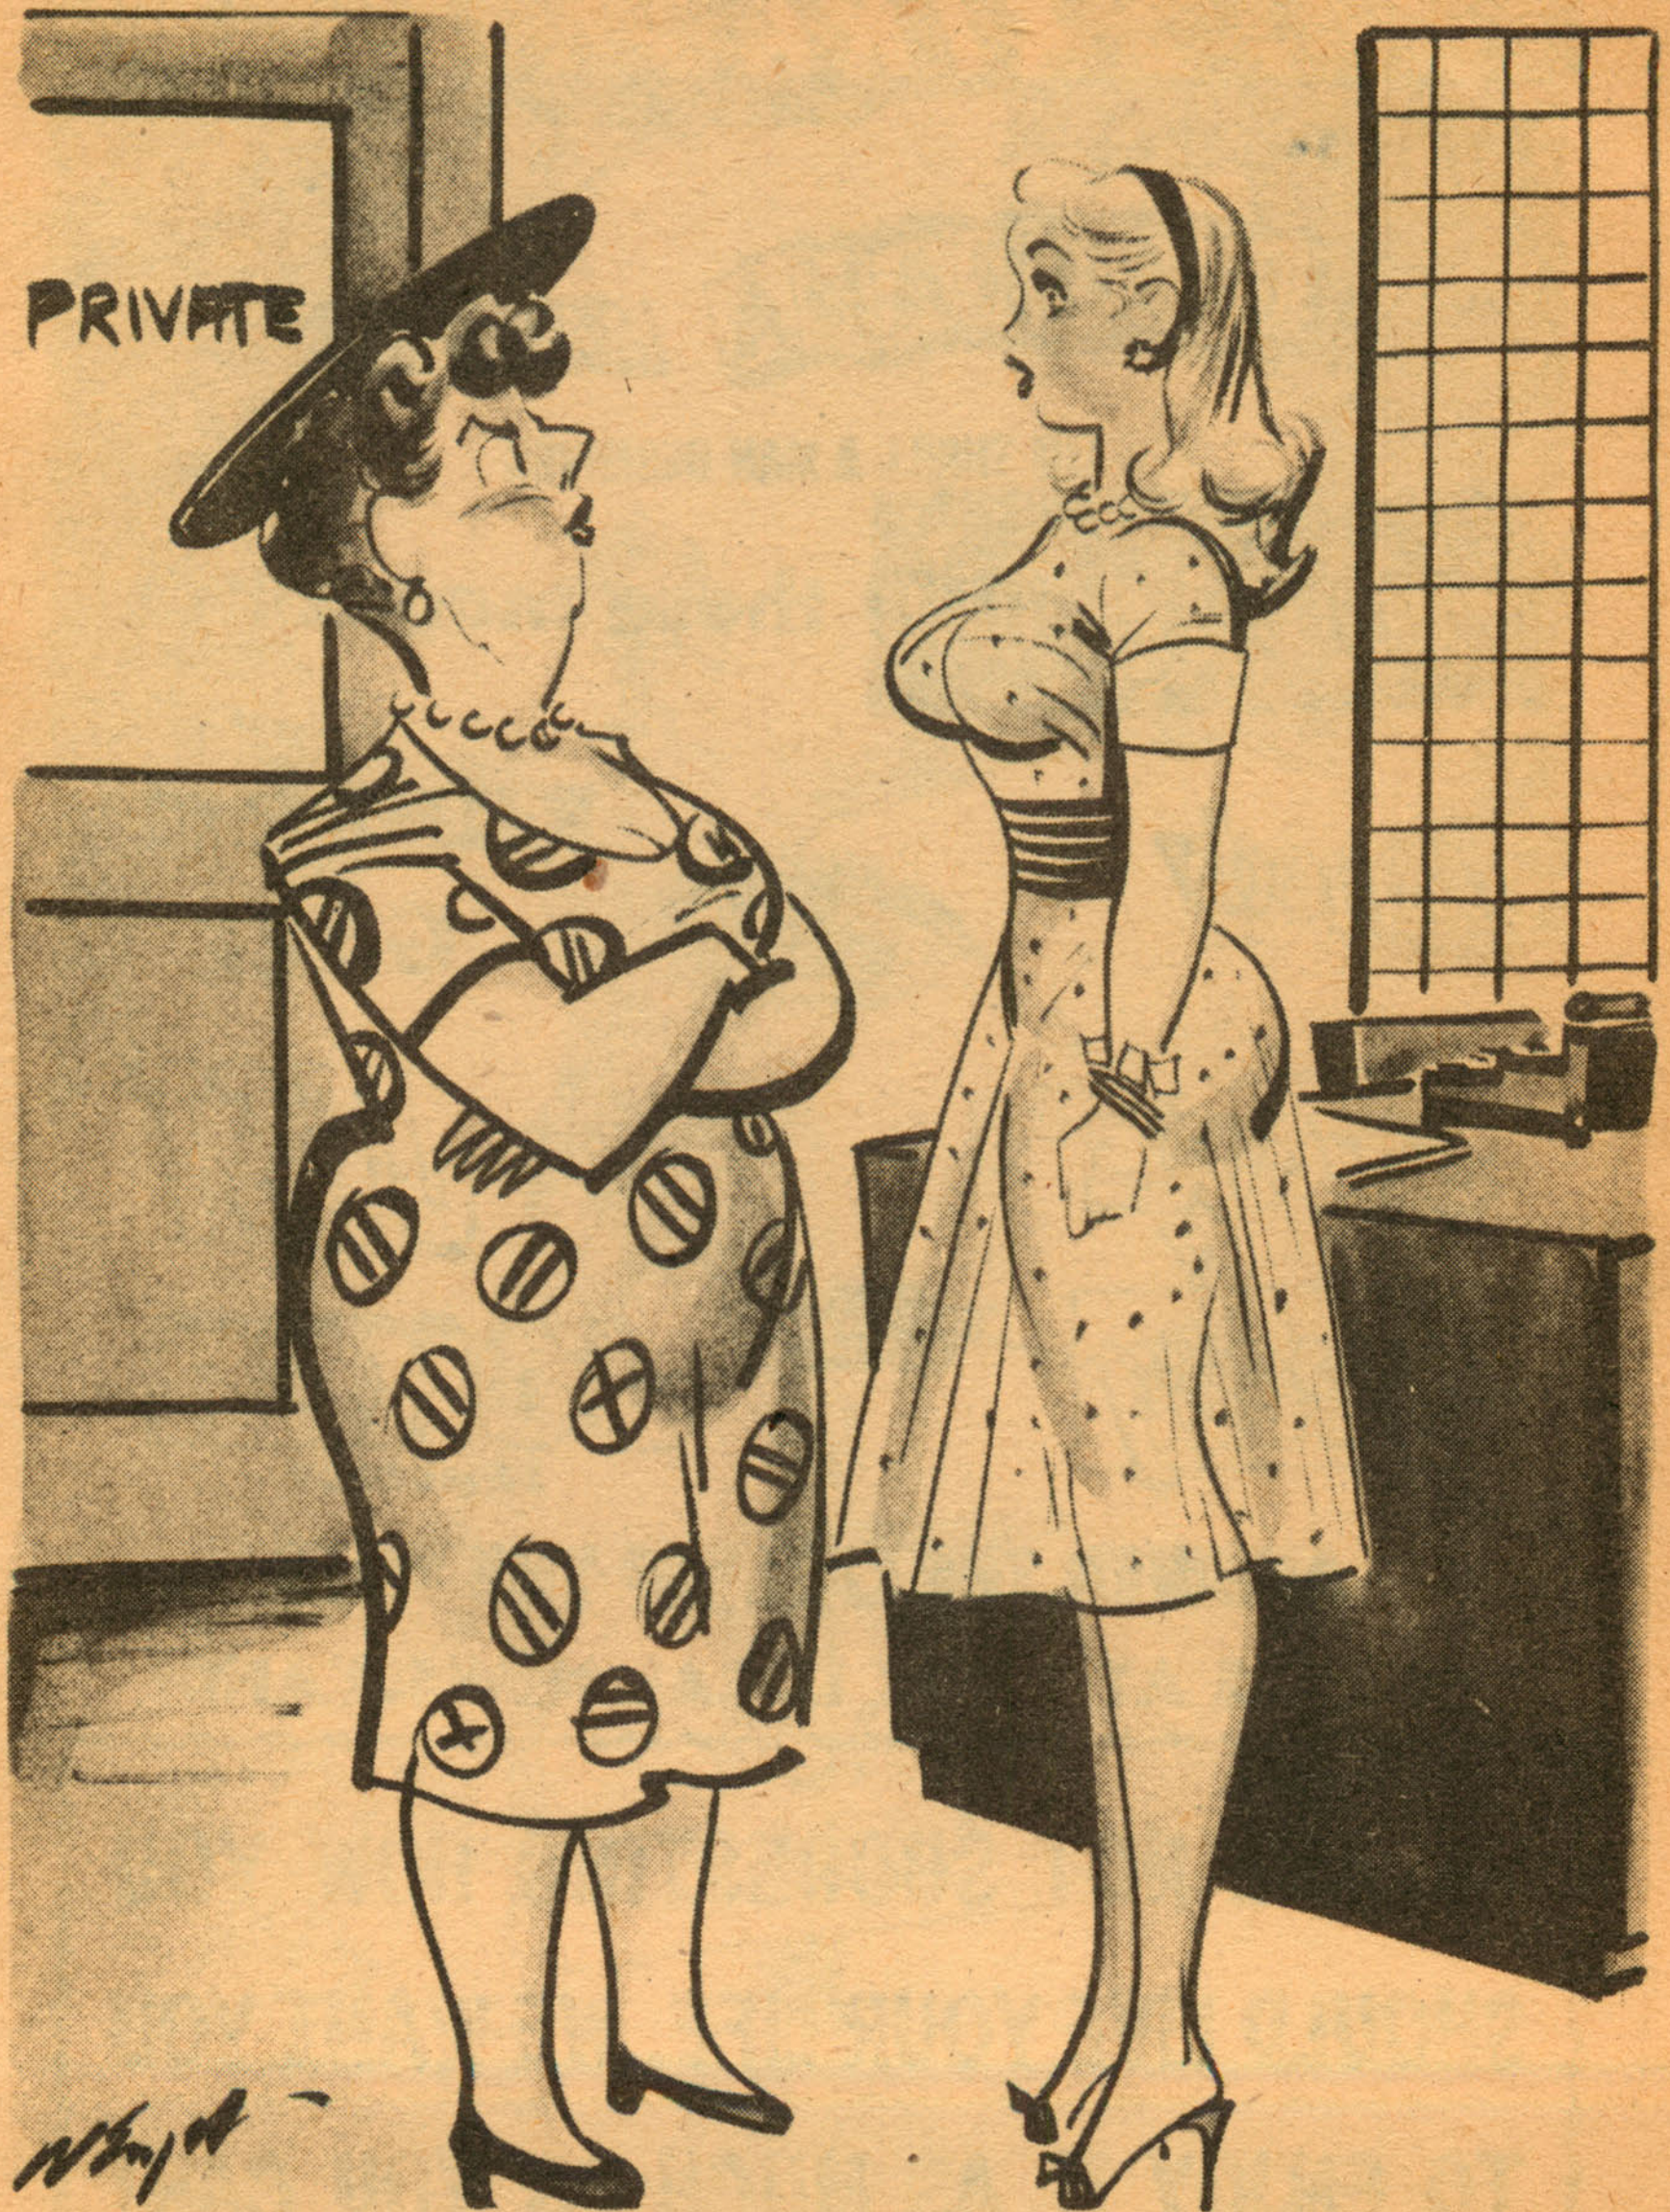

"How's about putting a little spice in your diary?"

"There is a great need for mutual understanding, Bob, but necessity has also been the mother of circumvention!"

BREEZY

"Your husband never makes a pass at me, Mrs. Twiggs; he's too madly in love with you!"

BREEZY

"Are you sure you heard a mouse, or was it the squeaky springs?"

"You're right, Gibson, a pretty face isn't everything—unless it runs into a nice figure!"

There were three tired soldiers asleep in their pup tents — but only one G.I. was dreaming! Can you spot which soldier is dreaming of the gal?

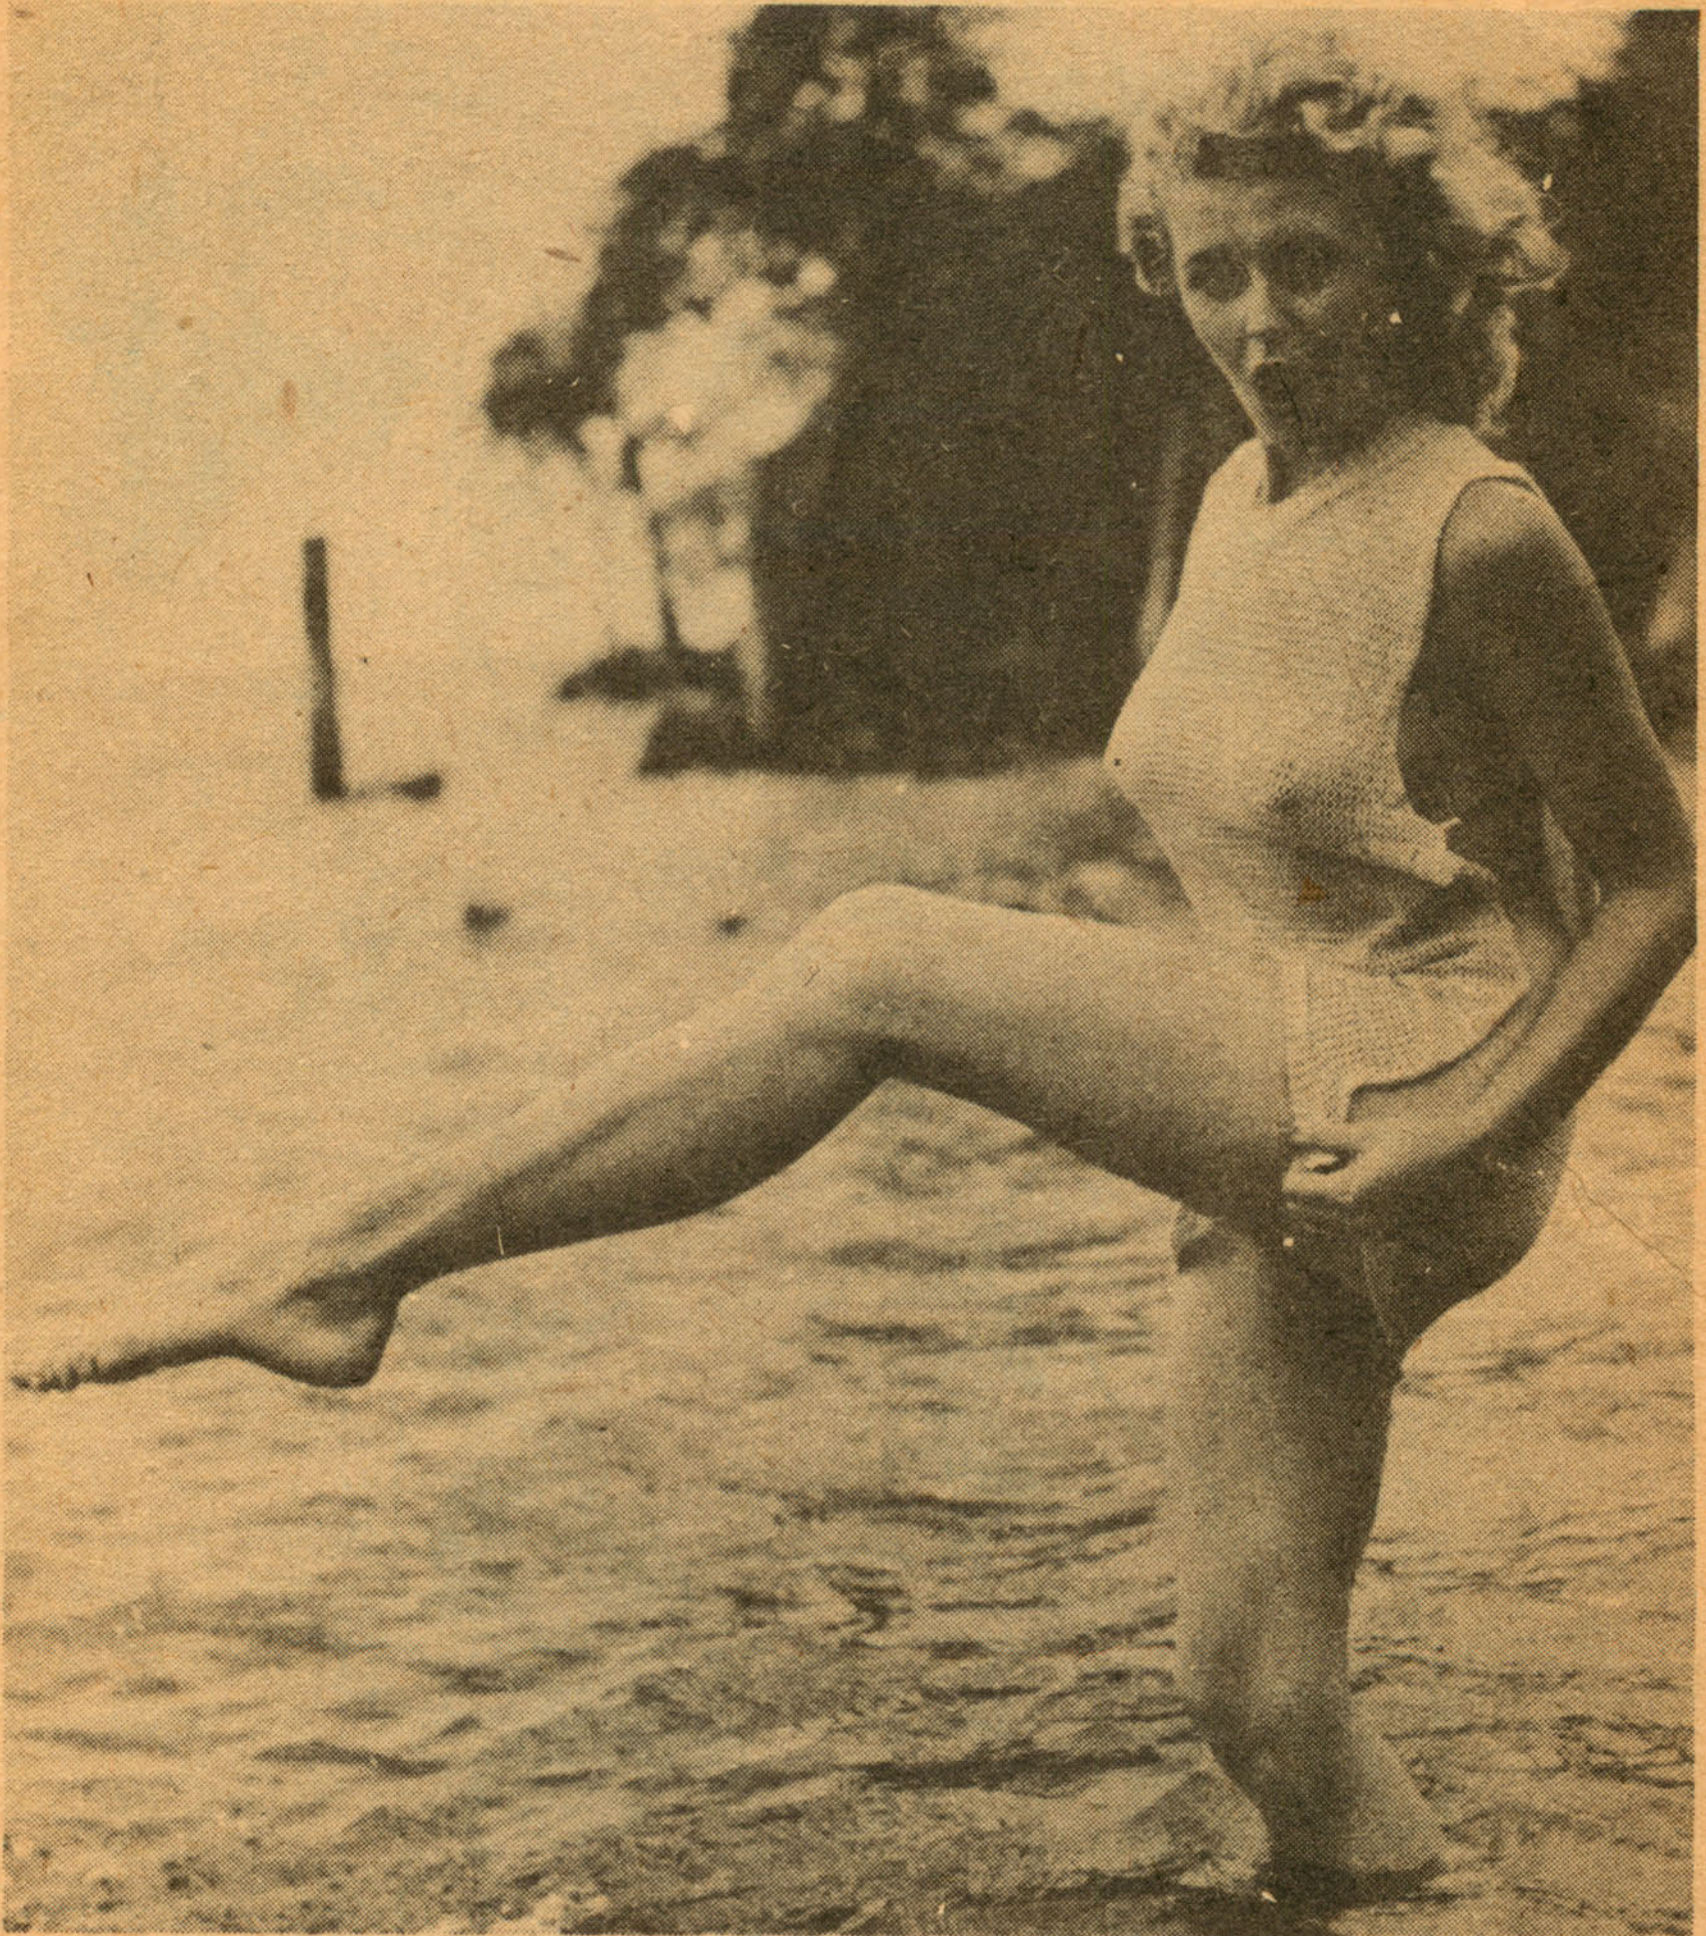

"Joe did the same type of work in civilian life!"

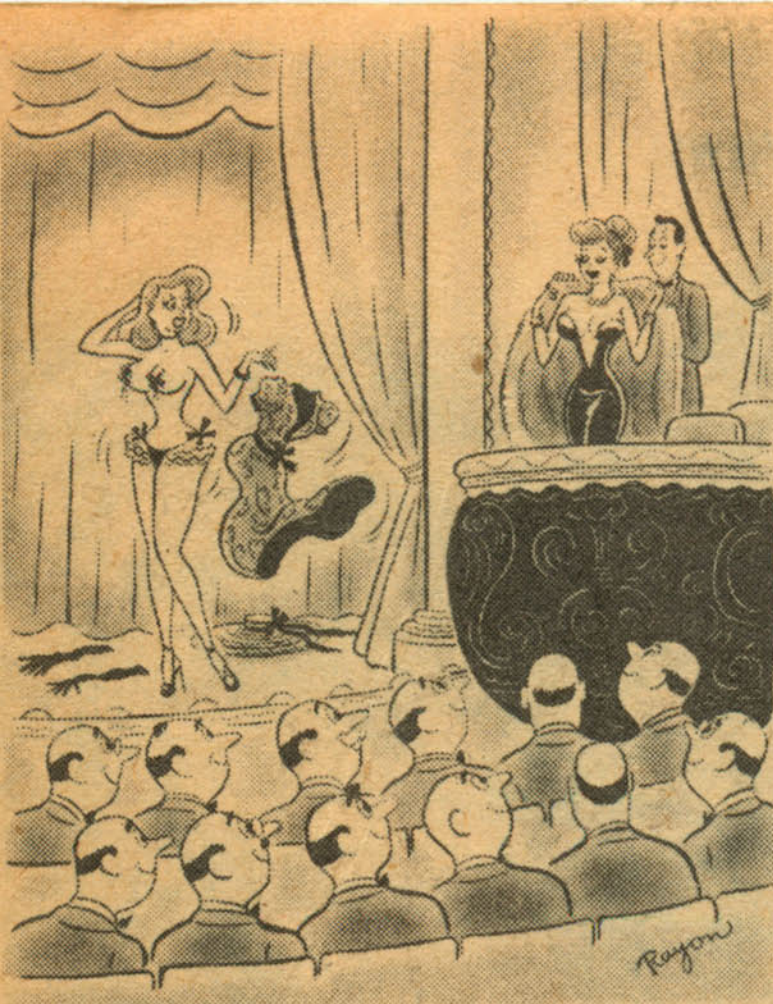

"I saved both of us last night!"

WHEWS! & VIEWS!

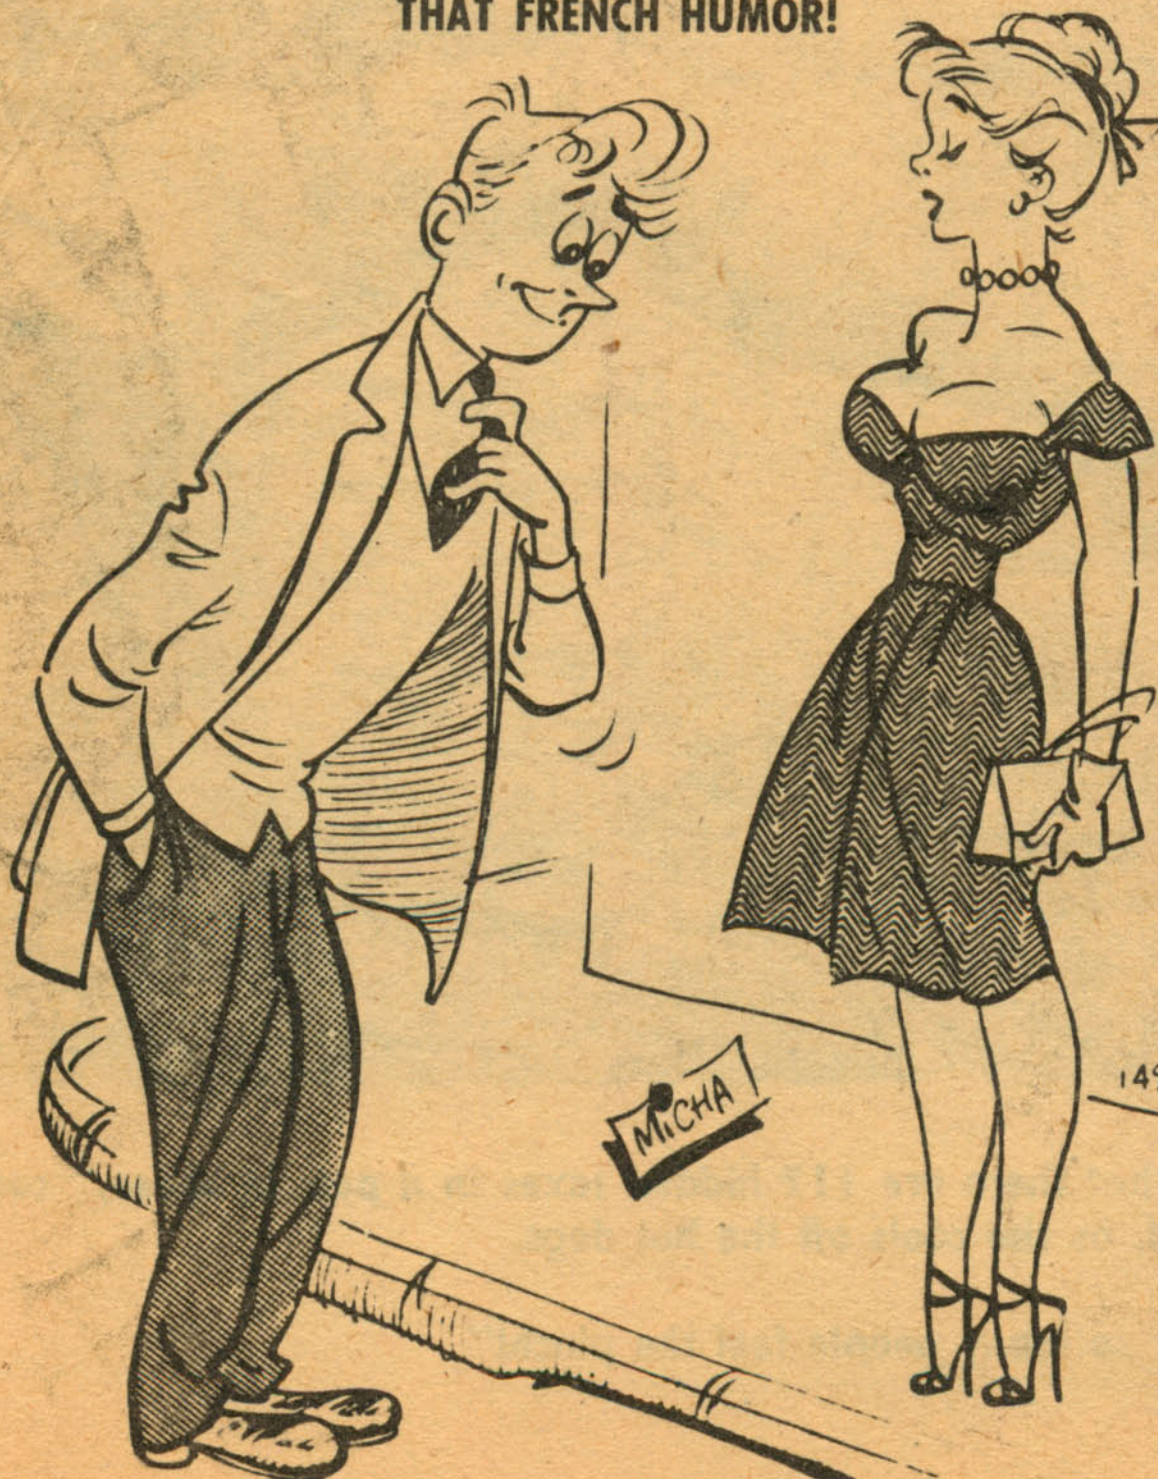

"It is said that there are 112 hidden taxes in a pair of shoes," complains Jane Millard, as she cools off the hot dogs.

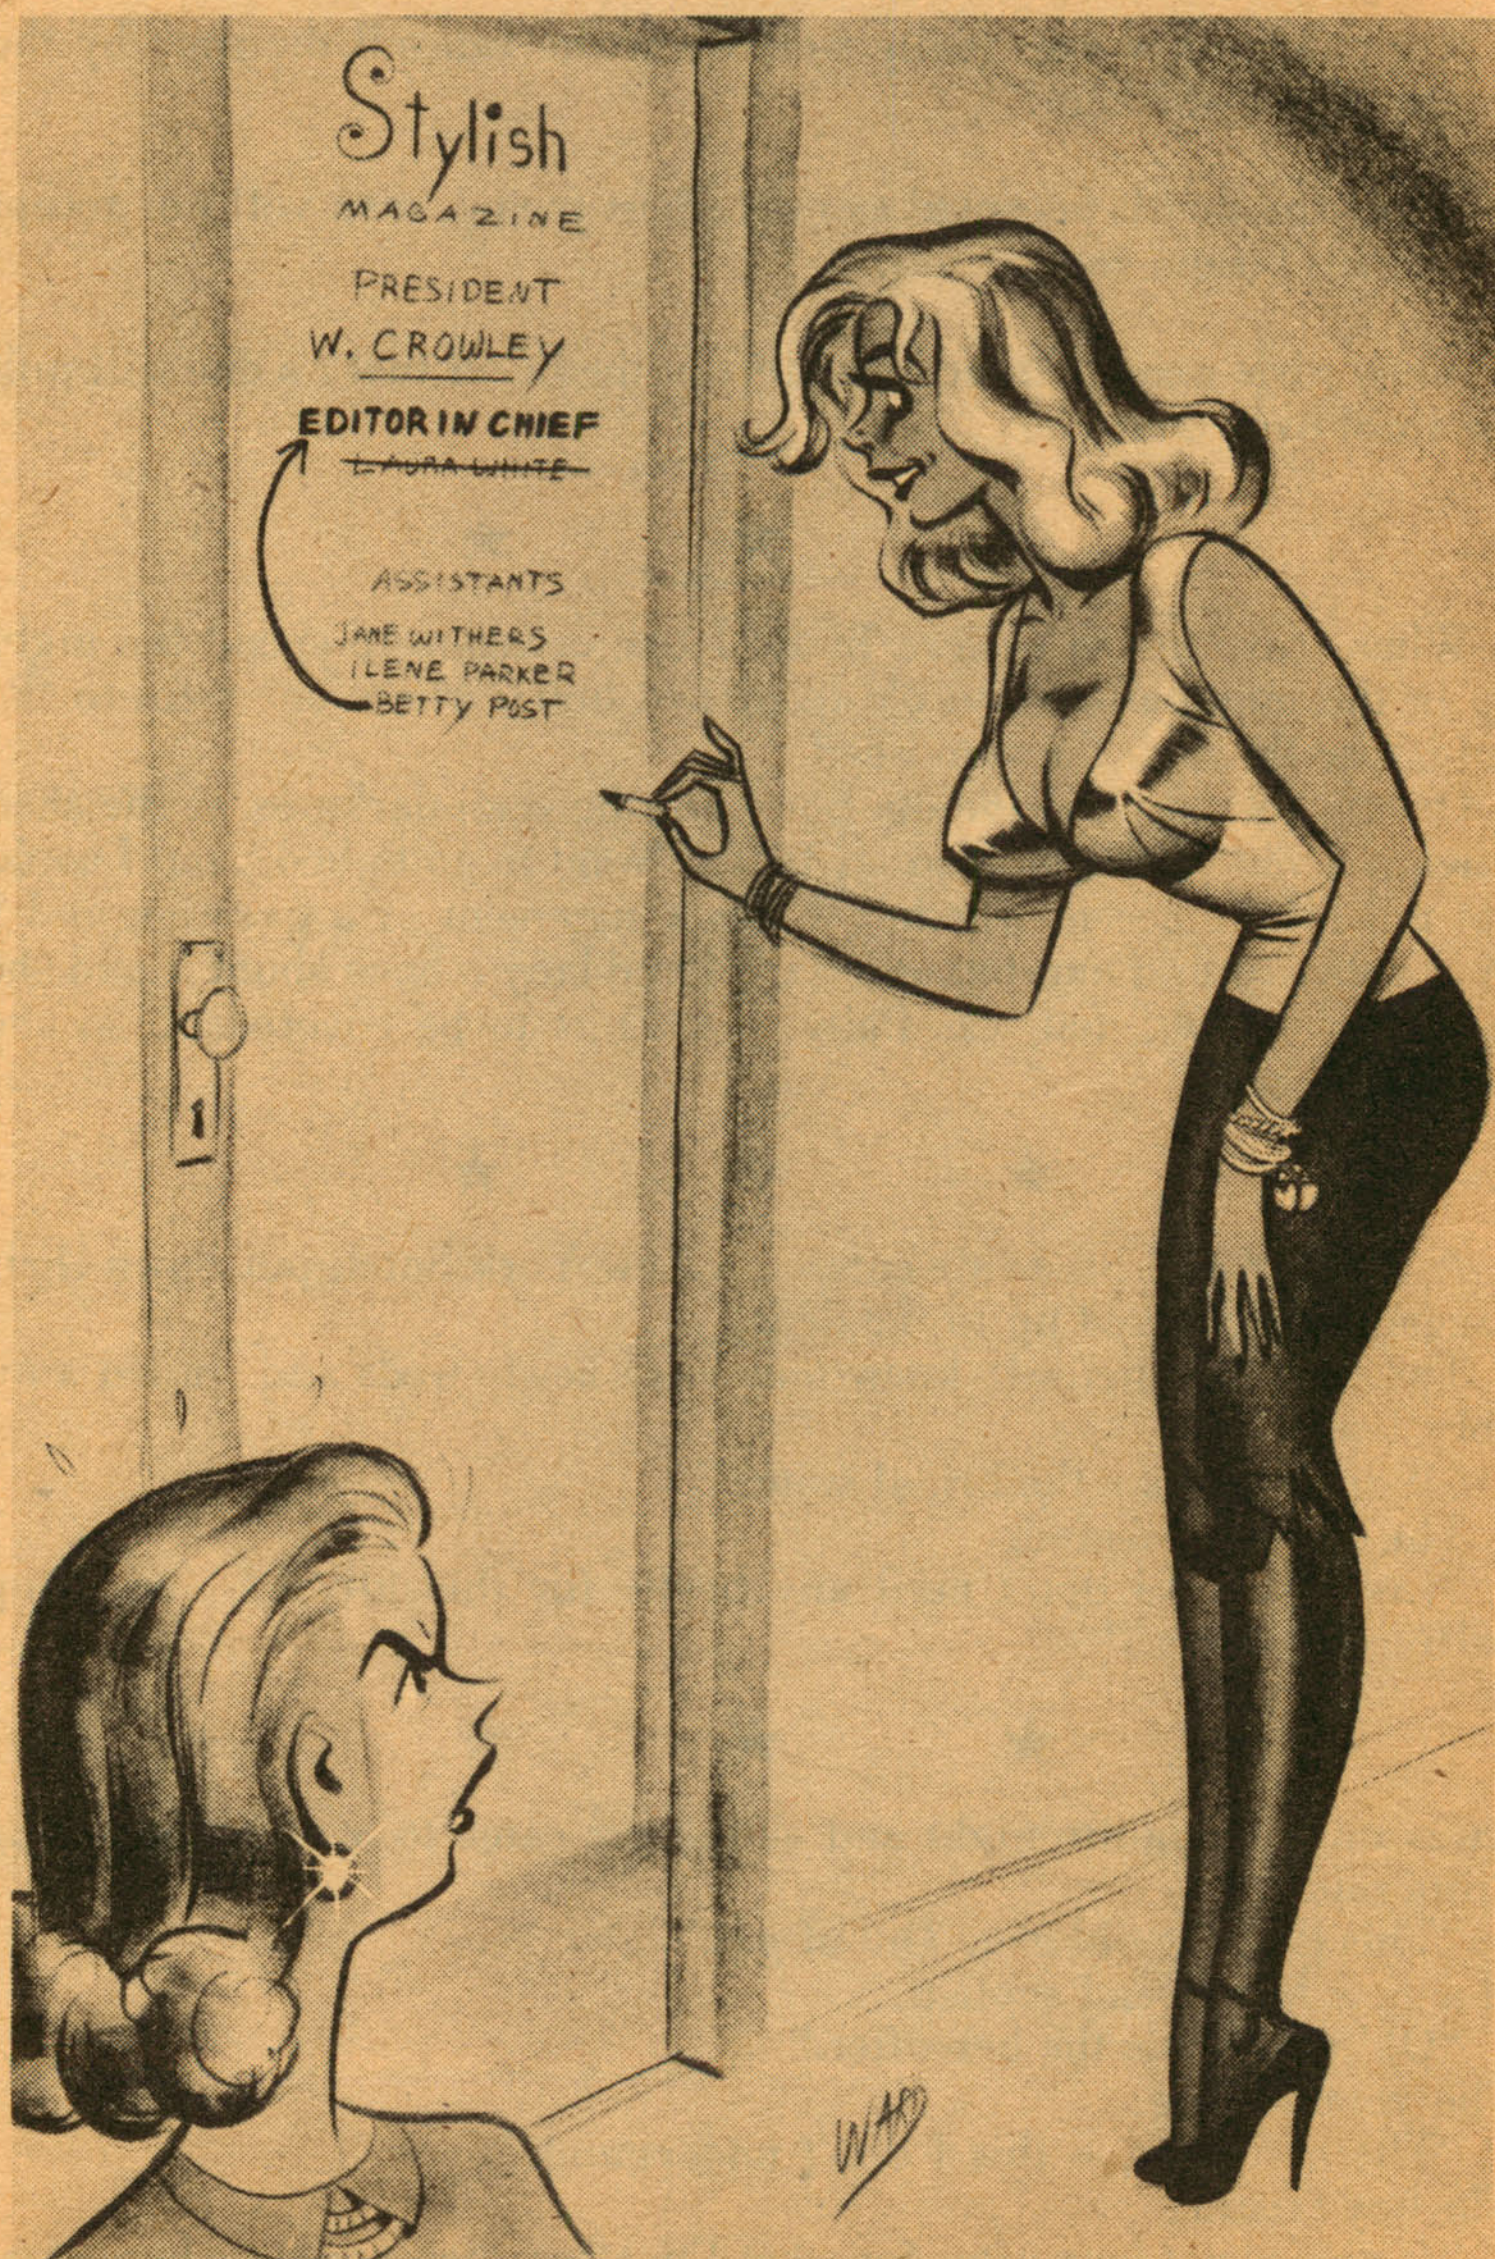

"No wonder so many people feel the pinch!"

THAT FRENCH HUMOR!

"Are they real . . . er, pearls?"

TO HAVE AND TO HOLD!

A girl knows a man really well when she can tell the time by the length of his whiskers!

While the dog is accepted as man's best friend, man will not accept him as his bosom companion!

Many girls wear buttoned sweaters in the belief that no one will pull the wool over their ahs!

When traveling in eastern Idaho I had occasion to spend the night up in the mountains at an old-fashioned hotel, where one went to the out-house through the woodshed.

On my return from the out-house, in the semi-darkness of the shed I heard a very distinct voice say twice, "want to go to bed", but I could not tell by the accent whether it was a statement or a question and I didn't stay to find out, but asked the Land-lady a once about it and she told me;— "Oh, that was Polly, she wants to be covered up so she can go to bed!"

A cowboy and his bride entered a New York hotel, put down their luggage and walked up to the desk.

The clerk instinctively knew they were newly-weds and smiled amiably.

"Would you like the bridal suite?"

The cowboy sneered.

"Listen Bud, I don't need any bridle for this filly . . . and stop calling me sweet!"

Twas on a moon-lite night and as the car came to a stop, the young thing said:

"This isn't the old gag, 'Out of gas.' "

Her new boy-friend replied:

"Oh' no, this is the hereafter."

The young thing:

"The hereafter,— this I don't understand."

The boy-friend:

"If you're not here after for what I'm after, then you'll be here after I'm gone!"

BREEZY

"Did you get the black eye from Yvonne?"

"No, from her fiancée . . ."

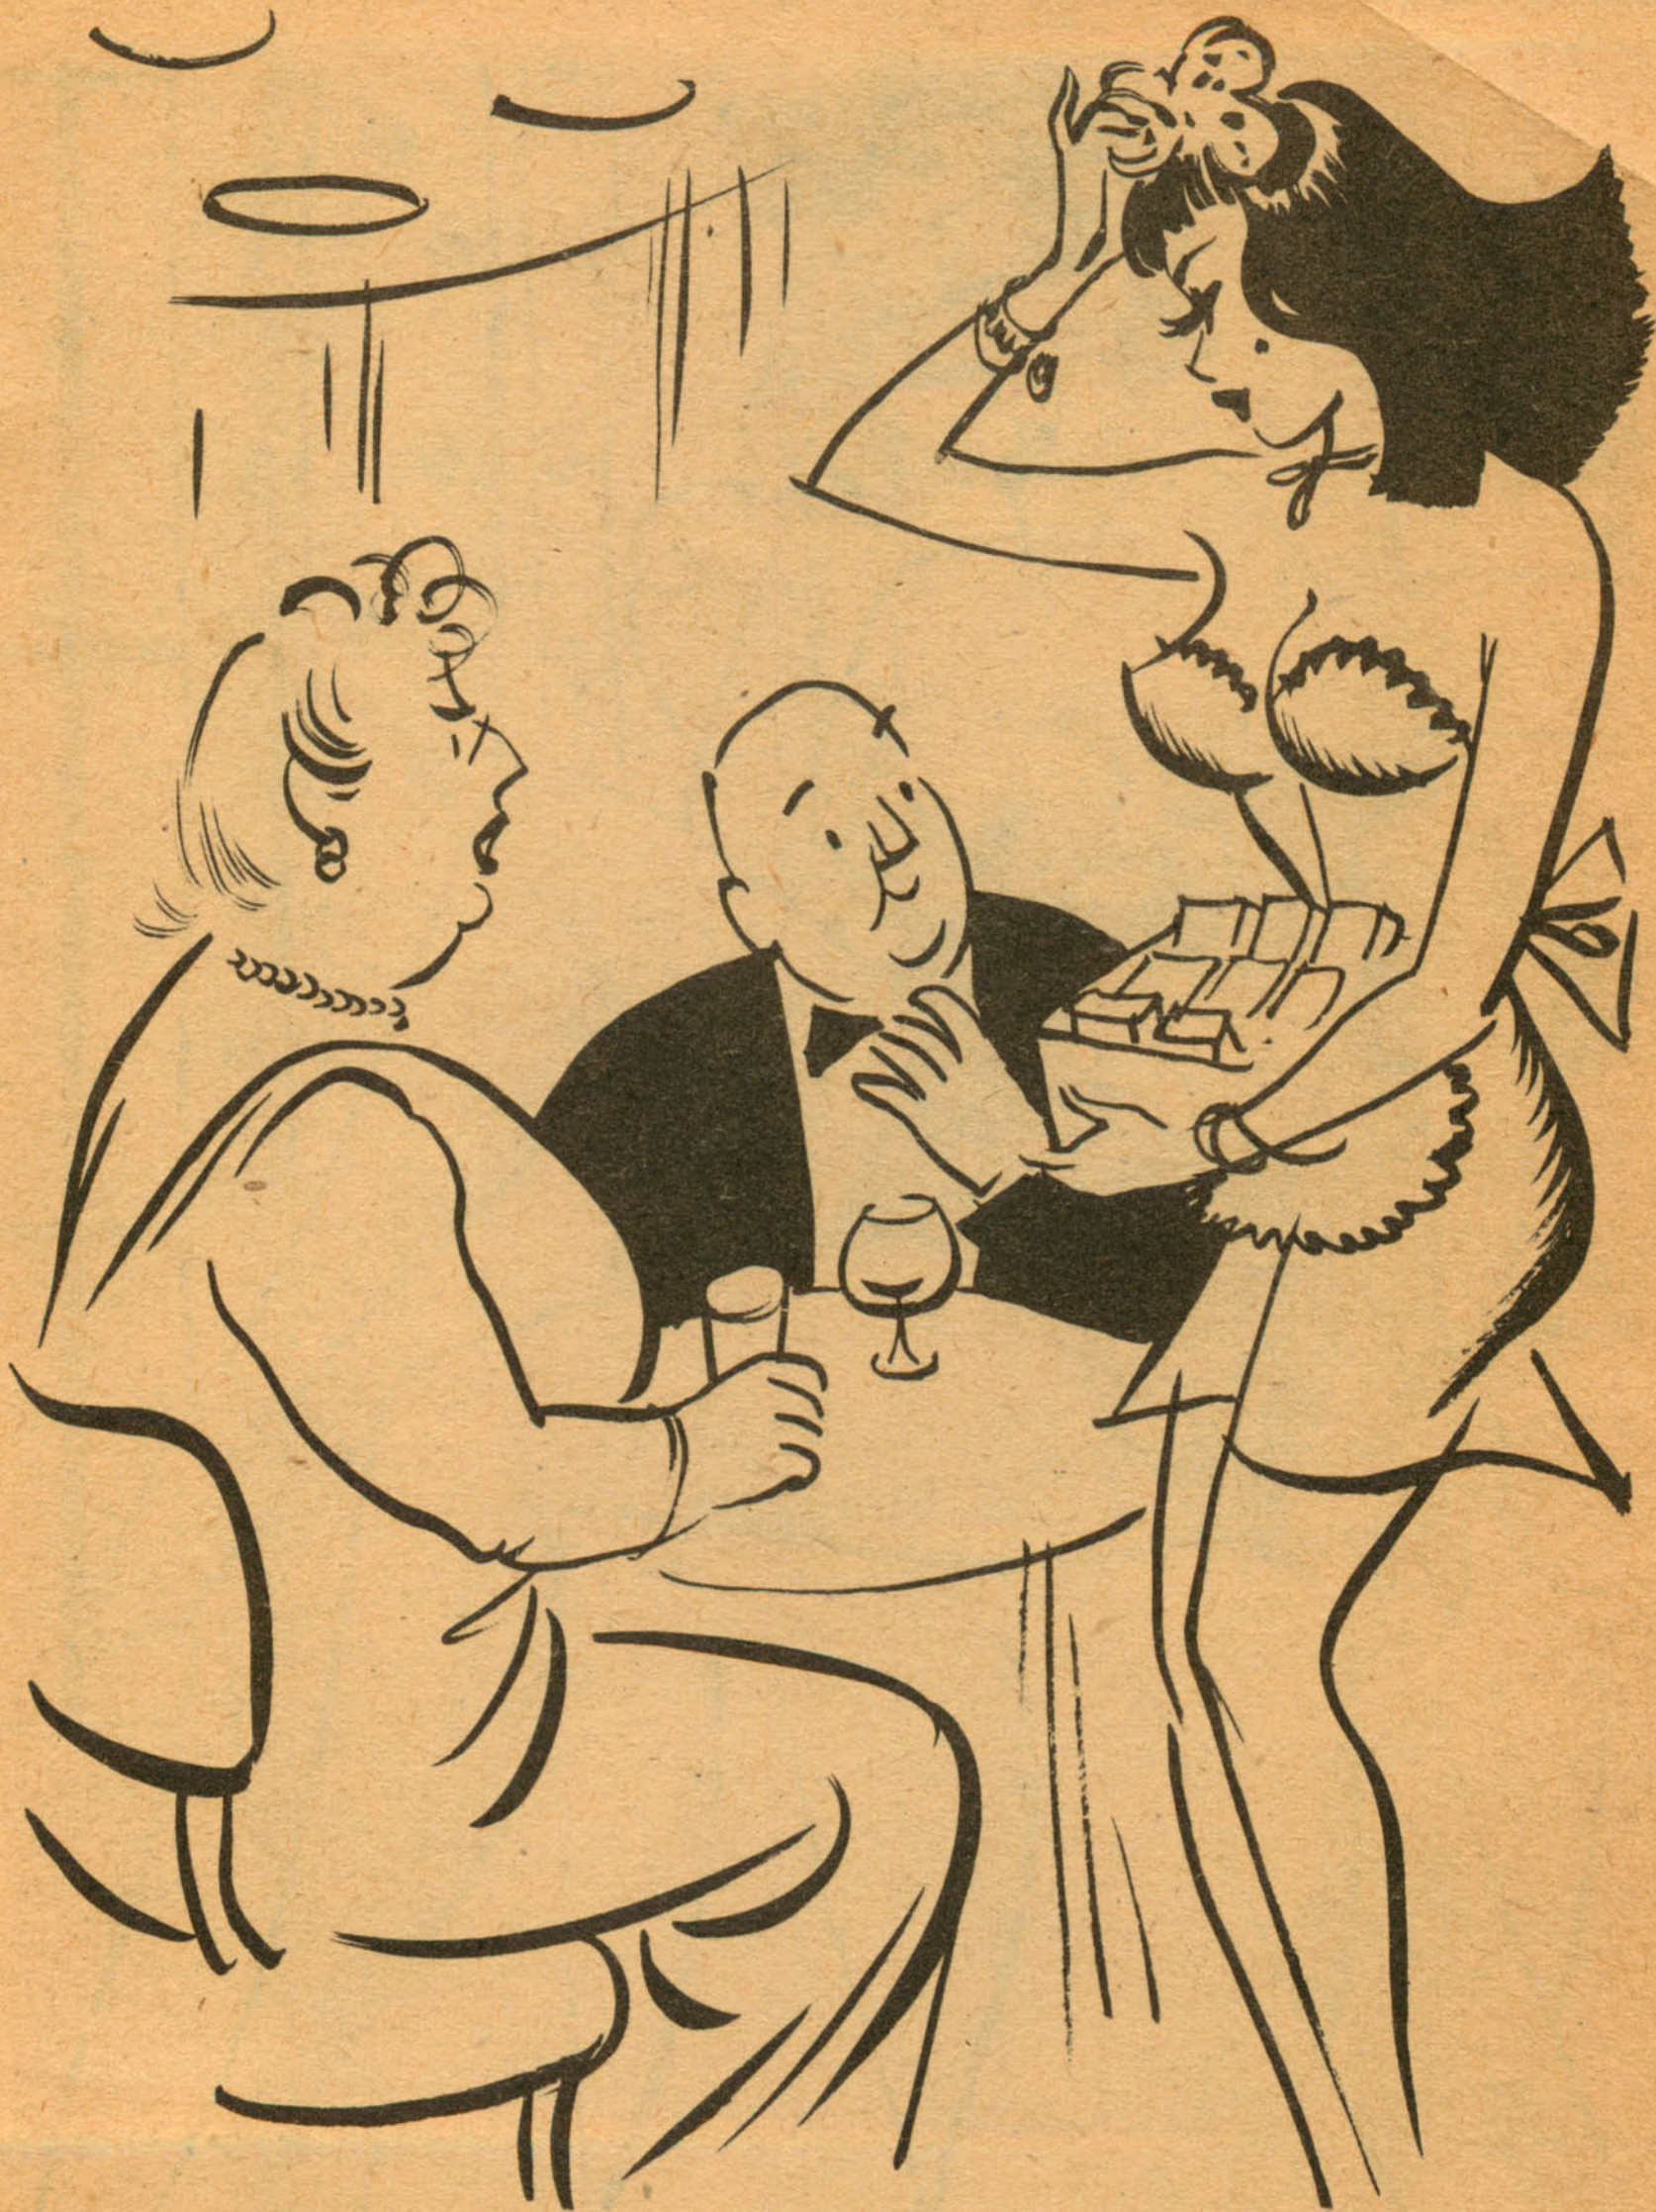

"But I thought he was in Europe?"

"That's what I thought a few minutes ago too!"

WHEWS! & VIEWS! YVONNE FREDRICH

"Many guys who win their wives by soft soap, end up by doing the dishes!"

"Suppose you come back when my husband has made up his mind what pack he likes best!"

Breezy

CARTOON JAMBOREE!

"When I married him, I did it to protect his holdings!"

"My fella's a smooth talker, but he's always falling for my line!"
